From a Semiotic Angle* Sayantan Dasgupta,2017-05-19 Essay from the year 2017 in the subject History Miscellaneous University of Calcutta Indian Statistical Institute course Masters language English abstract This essay is about using a semiotic angle to evaluate the existence and activities of a soldier and a revolutionary in a stratified manner The most common definitional difference between a soldier and a revolutionary is that a soldier is a person who serves in an army and obeys orders given to him by a government and a revolutionary is someone who is involved in causing a complete or dramatic change in a society country or in the international sphere My concern here is the projection of a soldier who is a part of a national government and a revolutionary in both national and international sphere The word soldier is used almost unanimously in a positive sense But the word revolutionary is used in both positive and negative sense The reason is a soldier is always on the government s side whereas a revolutionary stands against the government I am not here taking into account the notion of government in exile as I am here dealing with a country s electorally elected government and a government in exile is also a revolutionary government or organization and it stands on the opposite side of an electorally elected government Biographical History of Page County, Iowa ,1890 The World's Best Music ,1899 Library of the World's Best Literature Charles Dudley Warner,1898 A History of the English People in the Nineteenth Century Élie Halévy,1949 *Report of the Proceedings of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee at the ...
