

The background of the slide features a faint, light-colored illustration. On the left, there is a sketch of a globe showing continents and oceans. To the right of the globe, there is a sketch of a blimp or airship with a long, oval body and a tail section. The entire background has a textured, parchment-like appearance.

cable causes him to recall Samuel Morse which in turn conjures up Morse's neighbor firearms inventor Sam Colt and his rival Remington. One dizzying connection after another leads to Karl Marx's daughter who attended Socialist meetings with a trombonist named Gustav Holst who once lived in the very house that blocks Burke's view of the bridge on the Thames. Burke's essays all evolve in this organic manner highlighting the interconnectedness of seemingly unrelated events and innovations. Romantic poetry leads to brandy distillation, tonic water connects through Leibniz to the first explorers to reach the North Pole. Witty, instructive and endlessly entertaining, Circles expands on the trademark style that has captivated James Burke fans for years. This unique collection is sure to stimulate and delight history buffs, technophiles and anyone else with a healthy intellectual curiosity.
