Turner, Robert H. Gardner, 1991 Landscape ecology as a modern interdisciplinary science is making use increasingly of quantitative research techniques adopted from other fields So far no synthetic reference has been available to those wishing to acquaint themselves with new approaches to quantitative analysis of spatial heterogeneity at the landscape level This book seeks to meet this need by providing a conceptual framework and illustrating potential applications for methods such as pattern analysis spatial statistics fractals modeling broad scale studies and extrapolation across scales Each technique is discussed in sufficient detail to be adaptable to a variety of research problems Quantitative Methods in Landscape Ecology will be an important resource for researchers and students of landscape and ecosystem ecology in understanding and analyzing the dynamics of complex spatial systems
