Ethnologia Europaea Journal of European Ethnology Tom O'Dell,Robert Willim,2012-03-26 Ethnography has become something of a buzzword in recent years It is talked about and invoked in disciplines ranging from anthropology and ethnology to literature history business administration and design studies Textbooks that teach ethnography tend to imbue students with the impression that ethnography is a mode of systematic investigation by which the researcher gets closer to the realities of people s everyday lives But how straightforward are these processes in reality As ethnography spreads into new folds of research both within and without the academy the contributions in this volume demonstrate the manner in which field methods are adjusting transforming or taking new forms altogether If textbooks might lead students to believe that observations and interviews are the grounds upon which good ethnography can regularly be produced the authors in this volume take as their point of departure the realisation that ethnography is being used in a multitude of different contexts which forces them and us as readers to question the regularities and irregularities of their own work The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 Visual Arts Research ,2005 Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2008 Journal of Cultural Research in Art Education ,2011 The Imagination in Education Sean Blenkinsop,2009 This collection of essays from scholars in eleven countries centres upon the theory and practice of the use of imagination in education By bringing together studies covering a wide range of subject matter we trust that the reader will have the opportunity to appreciate both the diversity within the field and the significance of the topics discussed We hope too that readers will find connections to their own areas of study The 13 essays present distinct yet converging points of view whether it be a discussion of the imagination as a virtue the use of imagination as a means to improve aboriginal education in Northern Canada or the description of a museum in Brazil in which the imagination of the child is central to the project Separately each of the papers identifies and explores a distinct aspect of Imaginative Education together they begin to define the breadth and richness of the field These essays have been selected from papers presented over a period of several years to research symposiums in imagination and education held every summer in Vancouver Canada under the auspices of the Imaginative Education Research Group in the Faculty of Education at Simon Fraser University

Dutch journal of music theory ,2007 Creative Thinking and Arts-based Learning Joan P. Isenberg,Mary Renck Jalongo,2006 Creative Thinking and Arts Based Learning prepares preservice and inservice teachers to know why children s creative thinking and play are so important know about children s play and creative thinking and also know how to provide these experiences within the curriculum It contains extensive coverage of the roles responsibilities and strategies that lead to a more child centered play based curriculum An Applied Approach Many instructional guidelines and classroom strategies are presented throughout the text for integrating creative thinking and play into learning Cases about preschoolers K 2nd graders and 3rd 4th graders open each chapter and show readers how teachers infuse the arts into learning Meeting Standards This new feature discusses how to provide for creativity in classrooms while also meeting state and national standards Frequently Asked Questions Another new feature poses common questions about issues such as what materials and resources to use how to adapt environments for diverse learners and how to foster and assess creative thought Misconceptions are dispelled with research based answers A Theoretical Approach Solid theory underlies all of the content The authors experience as university professors and practitioners is evident in their clear presentation of relevant theory A Reflective Approach Teacher s Reflections in each chapter tell readers what other preservice and inservice teachers are thinking and doing in their classrooms relative to their experiences with the arts Resources Instructor s Manual and test Bank PowerPoint Slides American Educational Research Association Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2007
