Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education Kaye Price, 2012-09-11 Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education An Introduction for the Teaching Profession prepares students for the classroom and community environments they will encounter when teaching Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children in urban rural and remote schools at early childhood primary and secondary levels The book addresses many issues and challenges faced by teacher education students and assists them to understand the deeper social cultural and historical context of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander education This is a unique textbook written by a team of highly regarded Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander academics Each chapter opens with an engaging anecdote from the author connecting learning to real world issues This is also the first textbook to address Torres Strait Islander education Written in an engaging and accessible style Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education is an essential resource for teacher education students Teaching Aboriginal Studies National Federation of Aboriginal Education Consultative Groups (Australia),1999 A complete guide to teaching Aboriginal studies in both primary and secondary schools Teaching the Teachers Aboriginal Studies Rhonda Craven,Christine Halse,2002

Seeding Success in Indigenous Australian Higher Education Rhonda Craven,Janet Mooney,2013-11-04 More Indigenous Australians are realizing their potential but many remain significantly disadvantaged compared to other Australians on all socio economic indicators and one of the most disadvantaged peoples in the world Increasing successful outcomes in Indigenous Higher Education is recognized as vital in addressing this disadvantage and closing Sociocultural Influences and Teacher Education Programs Dennis M. McInerney,Shawn Van Etten,2003-01-01 This volume describes exemplary teacher education programs addressing educational outcomes achievement gaps and effective teaching skills It explores theoretical perspectives on improving education through better trained teachers and the applicability of these skills across various environments Teaching and Learning in Aboriginal Education Neil Evans Harrison,2011 Teaching and Learning in Aboriginal Education 2e helps pre service teachers prepare themselves for the challenges and joys of teaching Aboriginal students in urban remote and rural primary and secondary schools The book balances the practical the personal and the theoretical to convey the richness of diversity that is found within Australian classrooms Indigenous Education Nina Burridge,Frances Whalan,Karen Vaughan,2012-12-23 Education is an essential pathway to bridging the divide in educational attainment between Indigenous and non Indigenous students In the Australian policy contexts Indigenous Education has been informed by a large number of reviews reports and an extensive list of projects aimed at improving educational outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children Central to each has been the investigation of the inequity of access to educational resources the legacy of historical policies of exclusion and the lack of culturally responsive pedagogical practices that impact on Indigenous student achievement at school Research on best practice models for teaching Indigenous students points to the level of teachers commitment being a crucial link to student engagement in the classroom improvement of student self concept and student retention rates Most recently the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership AITSL has recognized in the National Professional Standards for Teachers that practising teachers must attain skills in working with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students and their communities Clearly it is time for new pedagogical practices in Indigenous education that are implemented in partnerships with local Aboriginal and

Torres Strait Islander communities This book reports on a three year research based study of action learning in schools that sought to enhance engagement with local Aboriginal communities promote quality teaching and improve students learning outcomes The school studies come from different demographic regions in New South Wales Australia s most populous state and showcase the achievements and challenges highs and lows affordances and obstacles in the development and delivery of innovative curriculum strategies for teaching Aboriginal histories and cultures in Australian schools The findings illustrate that engaging teachers in a learning journey in collaboration with academic partners and members of local Aboriginal communities in an action learning process can deliver innovative teaching programs over a sustained period of time As a result schools demonstrated that these approaches do produce positive educational outcomes for teachers and students and enable authentic partnerships with Aboriginal communities

A Critical Analysis of Core Aboriginal Studies Subjects in Primary Teacher Education Courses Janet Mooney, 2011 Australia has come to a critical point in its identity as a nation that is acknowledging its Aboriginal peoples Australia s first people as an intrinsic part of what it is to be Australian That means respecting Australia s history which includes Australia s first people s histories in our studies and in the fabric of who we are It also includes Aboriginal students achieving educational outcomes commensurate with their non Aboriginal peers The New South Wales Department of Education and Training NSW DET Aboriginal education policies along with the national Aboriginal education policies and a whole host of reports have identified that for a complexity of reasons non Aboriginal Australian s have nurtured prejudices and out dated misconceptions about Aboriginal Australians These reports and policies have therefore recommended that all Australian school students be taught the truth about Australia s Aboriginal past from colonisation to the present to learn how the past shaped the present and to walk together to shape the future Teaching Aboriginal Studies and integrating Aboriginal perspectives by incorporating Aboriginal history culture and values into the school s curriculum has been a challenge for NSW DET Whilst teachers are expected to teach Aboriginal Studies and integrate Aboriginal perspectives many lack knowledge about Aboriginal history and culture many have never met an Aboriginal person and many pre service teachers have not been taught the knowledge skills and understandings to effectively teach Aboriginal Studies and Aboriginal students as a component of their teacher education courses Of the pre service teachers who have experienced Aboriginal Studies teacher education core courses a paucity of research has been conducted to explicate the nature value and impact of these courses The overarching purpose of this thesis was to assemble an evidence based rationale which includes the voices of multiple stakeholders to test the extent to which core Aboriginal Studies subjects in primary teacher education courses are vital to improving educational outcomes for Aboriginal children advancing reconciliation and creating a more socially just society To address this purpose the present investigation critically analysed multiple stakeholders self perceptions of the value nature success and impact of core Aboriginal Studies subjects in primary teacher education courses
