Soil Management Problems And Solutions:

Soil Management Michael A Fullen, John A Catt, 2014-04-04 The soil is a fundamental constituent of the Earth's system maintaining a careful state of equilibrium within the biosphere. However, this natural balance is being increasingly disturbed by a variety of anthropogenic and natural processes leading to the degradation of many soil environments. Soil Management provides a comprehensive and authoritative introduction to the many problems, challenges, and potential solutions facing soil management in the twenty-first century. Covering a range of topics including erosion, desertification, salinization, soil structure, carbon sequestration, acidification, and chemical pollution, the book also develops a prognosis for the future of soil management in the face of growing populations and global warming. Written with the needs of students in mind, each chapter provides a broad overview of a problem, analyses approaches to its solution, and concludes with references and suggestions for further reading. Soil Management will be of great value to environmental science and geography undergraduates taking soil management courses in their second or third year.

Soil Management CATT, J, 2004 Provides a comprehensive and authoritative introduction to the problems, challenges, and potential solutions facing soil management.

The Basic Soil Problems and Possible Solutions in Agriculture Suleiman Usman, 2011-05 Document from the year 2011 in the subject Agrarian Studies University of Greenwich language English abstract It is widely recognised that environmental problems such as soil degradation, erosion, and desertification affect many agricultural lands globally. These problems have caused soil quality decline, crop yield reduction, economic crisis, poverty, unemployment, and rural-urban migration. Soil management practices are considered as the most vital and sustainable possible solution to control soil erosion and desertification. This management includes use of organic manure, crop rotation, use of cover crop, intercropping, planting shelter belt, and afforestation, provision of water ways, good surface drainage system, restoration of rangeland, regeneration, and secondary forest, and political changes.
