Gardening Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew. Library and Archives Division, 1979 An Economic History of the English Garden Roderick Floud, 2019-11-07 Roderick Floud's ground breaking study of the history money places and personalities involved in British gardens over the past 350 years gives fascinating insight into why gardening is part of this country's soul Michael Heseltine Deputy Prime Minister 1996 1997 Thousands of books have been written about the history of British gardens but Roderick Floud one of Britain's most distinguished economic historians asks new and important questions how much did gardens cost to build and maintain and where did the money come from Superbly researched it is full of information which will surprise both economists and gardeners The book is fun as well as edifying Floud shows us gardens grand and humble and introduces us gardeners plantsmen and technologies in wonderful varieties Jane Humphries Centennial Professor London School of Economics At least since the seventeenth century most of the English population have been unable to stop making improving and dreaming of gardens Yet in all the thousands of books about them this is the first to address seriously the question of how much gardens and gardening have cost and to work out the place of gardens in the economic as well as the horticultural life of the nation It is a new kind of gardening history Beginning with the Restoration of Charles II in 1660 Roderick Floud describes the role of the monarchy and central and local government in creating gardens as well as that of the generally aristocratic or plutocratic builders of the great gardens of Stuart Georgian and Victorian England He considers the designers of these gardens as both artists and businessmen often earning enormous sums by modern standards matched by the nurserymen and plant collectors who supplied their plants He uncovers the lives and rewards of working gardeners the domestic gardens that came with the growth of suburbs and the impact of gardening on technical developments from man made lakes to central heating AN ECONOMIC HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH GARDEN shows the extraordinary commitment of money as well as time that the English have made to gardens and gardening over three and a half centuries It reveals the connections of our gardens to the re establishment of the English monarchy the national debt transport during the Industrial Revolution the new industries of steam glass and iron and the built environment that is now all around us It is a fresh perspective on the history of England and will open the eyes of gardeners and garden visitors to an unexpected dimension of what they do     A History of Garden Art Marie Luise Schroeter Gothein,2014-09-11 This 1928 highly illustrated two volume work on garden design is regarded as among the most important surveys of its kind     History of Garden Art Marie-Luise Gothein,Walter P Wright, Marie Luise Gothein s History of garden art was first published in German 1913 It was re published in English in 1928 with two extra chapter This edition first published as a CD in 2002 has been edited and revised by Tom Turner It is now supplied as a pdf     Gardens and the Picturesque John Dixon Hunt,1992 A collection of Hunt s essays many previously unpublished dealing with the ways in which men and women have given meaning to gardens and landscapes especially with the ways in which gardens have represented the world of nature picturesquely

European Gardens Thomas Henry Duke Turner,2011 This is the second of Turner s books dealing with the history of garden design following on from Asian Gardens History Beliefs and Design published by Routledge in 2010 European Gardens History Philosophy and Design is an expanded version of the original Garden History book published in 2005 It features new illustrations and additional text Further details of all the gardens are available on the gardenvisit.com website which the author edits Book Jacket     Perspectives on Garden Histories Michel Conan,1999 Garden history is a discipline of contested purposes Perspectives on Garden Histories contributes to a self critical examination of this emergent field of study at the same time offering an overview of its main achievements in several domains such as Italian and Mughal gardens and of the new kinds of investigation to which they have led In its early years garden history centered on architectural studies of garden design but in the 1960s the emphasis shifted from garden design to garden meaning The new paradigm considered gardens as complex works of art and demanded an extensive documentation of the historical context as well as of the figurative and discursive sources This approach in its turn was challenged by neo Marxist scholars who proceeded to view landscape appreciation as an ideological superstructure an outgrowth of agricultural production processes Garden designs and their histories can also be viewed as expressions of ideological conflicts in society Neither gardens nor their history can thus be studied independently of the social cultural and political movements that give prominence to the contested ideologies

Gardens can be used to foster some ideologies or reflect a reaction against a social change Comparative research offers another fascinating approach exploring the relations between European landscape concepts and other cultural contexts and discussing issues of cultural dominance and interpretation The emergence of various perspectives has led to the incorporation of further questions into the domain of garden studies which has been moving in new directions and using new methods in search of an adapted theoretical framework This volume offers a striking view of changes taking place in the discipline
