Logic and Games on Automatic Structures Lukasz Kaiser,2011-07-22 The evaluation of a logical formula can be viewed as a game played by two opponents one trying to show that the formula is true and the other trying to prove it is false This correspondence has been known for a very long time and has inspired numerous research directions In this book the author extends this connection between logic and games to the class of automatic structures where relations are recognized by synchronous finite automata In model checking games for automatic structures two coalitions play against each other with a particular kind of hierarchical imperfect information The investigation of such games leads to the introduction of a game quantifier on automatic structures which connects alternating automata with the classical model theoretic notion of a game quantifier This study is then extended determining the memory needed for strategies in infinitary games on the one hand and characterizing regularity preserving Lindström quantifiers on the other Counting quantifiers are investigated in depth it is shown that all countable omega automatic structures are in fact finite word automatic and that the infinity and uncountability set quantifiers are definable in MSO over countable linear orders and over labeled binary trees This book is based on the PhD thesis of Lukasz Kaiser which was awarded with the E W Beth award for outstanding dissertations in the fields of logic language and information in 2009 The work constitutes an innovative study in the area of algorithmic model theory demonstrating the deep interplay between logic and computability in automatic structures It displays very high technical and presentational quality and originality advances significantly the field of algorithmic model theory and raises interesting new questions thus emerging as a fruitful and inspiring source for future research

God Bless America Kathleen E.R. Smith,2021-10-21 After Pearl Harbor Tin Pan Alley songwriters rushed to write the Great American War Song an Over There for World War II The most popular songs however continued to be romantic ballads escapist tunes or novelty songs To remedy the situation the federal government created the National Wartime Music Committee an advisory group of the Office of War Information OWI which outlined proper war songs along with tips on how and what to write The music business also formed its own Music War Committee to promote war songs Neither group succeeded The OWI hoped that Tin Pan Alley could be converted from manufacturing love songs to manufacturing war songs just as automobile plants had retooled to assemble planes and tanks But the OWI failed to comprehend the large extent by which the war effort would be defined by advertisers and merchandisers Selling merchandise was the first priority of Tin Pan Alley and the OWI never swayed them from this course Kathleen E R Smith concludes the government s fears of faltering morale did not materialize Americans did not need such war songs as Goodbye Mama I m Off To Yokohama There Are No Wings On a Foxhole or even The Sun Will Soon Be Setting On The Land Of The Rising Sun to convince them to support the war The crusade for a proper war song was misguided from the beginning and the music business then and now continues to make huge profits selling love not war songs
