Freeman,2020-12-01 With The Human Animal Earthling Identity Carrie P Freeman asks us to reconsider the devastating division we have created between the human and animal conditions leading to mass exploitation injustice and extinction As a remedy Freeman believes social movements should collectively foster a cultural shift in human identity away from an egoistic anthropocentrism human centered outlook and toward a universal altruism species centered ethic so people may begin to see themselves more broadly as human animal earthlings To formulate the basis for this identity shift Freeman examines overlapping values supporting life fairness responsibility and unity that are common in global rights declarations and in the current campaign messages of sixteen global social movement organizations that work on human civil rights nonhuman animal protection and or environmental issues such as Amnesty International Human Rights Watch CARE People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals the World Wildlife Fund the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society the Nature Conservancy the Rainforest Action Network and Greenpeace She also interviews the leaders of these advocacy groups to gain their insights on how human and nonhuman protection causes can become allies by engaging common opponents and activating shared values and goals on issues such as the climate crisis enslavement extinction pollution inequality destructive farming and fishing and threats to democracy Freeman s analysis of activist discourse considers ethical ideologies on behalf of social justice animal rights and environmentalism using animal rights respect for sentient individuals as a bridge connecting human rights to a more holistic valuing of species and ecological systems Ultimately Freeman uses her findings to recommend a set of universal values around which all social movements campaign messages can collectively cultivate respectful relations between human animal earthlings fellow sentient beings and the natural world we share    The Human-Animal Relationship in Pre-Modern Turkish Literature Dilek Bulut Sarikaya,2023-01-09 In The Human Animal Relationship in Pre Modern Turkish Literature A Study of The Book of Dede Korkut and The Masnavi Book I II Dilek Bulut Sarikaya explores medieval Anatolia where humans connectivity to nonhuman animals was not yet disrupted by the capitalist economic systems and demonstrates how ancient societies treated nonhuman animals as self conscious spiritual individuals capable of feeling pain with highly advanced forms of intentionality    Phenomenology and the Non-Human Animal Corinne Painter,Christian Lotz,2007-07-26 The question of the relation between human and non human animals in theoretical ethical and political regards has become a prominent topic within the philosophical debates of the last two decades This volume explores in substantial ways how phenomenology can contribute to these debates It offers specific insights into the description and interpretation of the experience of the non human animal the relation between phenomenology and anthropology the relation between phenomenology and psychology as well as ethical considerations     The Human Animal Markus Gabriel,2024-11-13 The climate crisis has forced us to recognize that we are not separate from nature but are part of the natural world on which we depend human beings are animals and we must understand much better our place in nature and our impact on our environment if we are to avoid our own annihilation as a species And yet we feel nevertheless that we do not entirely fit into nature that we stand apart from other animals in some way in what way exactly Markus Gabriel argues that what distinguishes humans from other animals is that humans are minded living beings who seek to understand the world and themselves and who possess ethical insight into moral contexts Mind is the capacity to lead one's life in the light of a conception of who or what one is The undeniable difference between us and other animals defines the human condition and places a special responsibility on us to consider our actions in the context of other living beings and our shared habitat It also calls on us to cultivate an ethics of not knowing to recognize that however much we may seek to understand the world we will never completely master it Our grasp of reality mediated by our animal minds will always be limited much is and will remain alien to us lending itself only to speculation and to remember this is to stand us in better stead for carving out an existence among the environmental crisis that looms before us all     The Contemporary Review ,1892     Household Economics Helen Campbell,1897     Genealogical chronology of the world before Christ, ed. by K.A.
