The Consolation of Philosophy Boethius,Aeterna Press,1964-02-01 To pleasant songs my work was erstwhile given and bright were all my labours then but now in tears to sad refrains am I compelled to turn Thus my maimed Muses guide my pen and gloomy songs make no feigned tears bedew my face Then could no fear so overcome to leave me companionless upon my way They were the pride of my earlier bright lived days in my later gloomy days they are the comfort of my fate for hastened by unhappiness has age come upon me without warning and grief hath set within me the old age of her gloom White hairs are scattered untimely on my head and the skin hangs loosely from my worn out limbs Aeterna Press The Consolation of Philosophy of Boethius Boethius,2007-01-01

Boethius best known work is the Consolations of Philosophy written during his imprisonment by far the most interesting example of prison literature the world has ever seen It is a dialogue between Philosophy and Boethius in which the Queen of Sciences strives to console the fallen statesman The main argument of the discourse is the transitoriness and unreality of all earthly greatness and the superior desirability of the things of the mind There are evident traces of the influence of the Neo Platonists especially of Proclus and little if anything that can be said to reflect Christian influences The Consolation of Philosophy Boethius,1957 The Consolation of Philosophy Ancius Boethius,2016-10-10 The Consolation of Philosophy has been described as the single most important and influential work in the West on medieval and early Renaissance Christianity and is also the last great Western work of the Classical Period Written while Boethius was in prison awaiting execution the work consists of a dialogue in alternating prose and verse between the author lamenting his own sorrows and a majestic woman who is the incarnation of his guardian Philosophy The woman develops a modified form of Neo Platonism and Stoicism demonstrating the unreality of earthly fortunes then proving that the highest good and the highest happiness are in God and reconciling the apparent contradictions concerning the existence of everything The Consolation of Philosophy (translated by H. foreshortening of our future the abandonment of belief in our own improvement and our society's progress and of course our death This book views these losses as part of an elegy of old age Elegy is a poetic or prose mourning of loss Sadness and other emotions result With elegiac understanding we detach ourselves from these losses to seek and find consolation This book is concerned with achieving intellectual detachment through meditative reflection with the help of reading and appreciating the classics The final stage of the old age elegy consolation can be found at least in part within the classics the garlands of repose The classics are broadly defined by Matthew Arnold as the best that has been thought and said or found in the fine arts To benefit from the classics requires a life long liberal education This education begins with an introduction to the classics in youth makes use of them during our adult lives and supplies their conclusion for old age meditation Such significant works enable us to place the losses we suffer within an intellectual framework of perennial ideas It is by means of such an intellectual framework that we secure consolation in old age Classic works familiarize us deeply with the losses and emotions we endure suggest substitutes for the goods of the life we have lost in old age offer opportunities of catharsis for the sadness we experience and help us transform ourselves in old age Classics help us see old age and its losses as part of a complete life which hold a unique value of its own while remaining part of larger nature processes history and intellectual traditions

Consolation of Philosophy Boethius,Joel C. Relihan,2001 Unjustly imprisoned and waiting to die Boethius penned his last and greatest work Consolation of Philosophy an imaginary dialogue between himself and Philosophy personified as a woman Reminiscent of Dante in places Boethius's fiction is an ode to philosophy cum Socratic dialogue Joel Relihan's skillful rendering smoother to the modern ear than previous translations preserves the book's heart rending clarity and Boethius's knack for getting it just right Listen to him on fortune We spin in an ever turning circle and it is our delight to change the bottom for the top and the top for the bottom You may climb up if you wish but on this condition Don't think it an injustice when the rules of the game require you to go back down Consolation of Philosophy recalls the transience of the material world the eternity of wisdom and the life of the philosopher Boethius was deeply influenced by the Platonist tradition and this piece is one of the more powerful and artful defenses of a detachment that feels almost Buddhist For anyone who's felt at odds with the world Consolation is a reminder that the best things in life are eternal Boethius must be right the book is just as meaningful today as it was in the sixth century when he wrote it Eric de Place
