Race, Rights, and Recognition Dean Franco, 2012-06-15 In Race Rights and Recognition Dean J Franco explores the work of recent Jewish American writers many of whom have taken unpopular stances on social issues distancing themselves from the politics and public practice of multiculturalism While these writers explore the same themes of group based rights and recognition that preoccupy Latino African American and Native American writers they are generally suspicious of group identities and are more likely to adopt postmodern distancing techniques than to presume to speak for their people Ranging from Philip Roth's scandalous 1969 novel Portnoy's Complaint to Gary Shteyngart's Absurdistan in 2006 the literature Franco examines in this book is at once critical of and deeply invested in the problems of race and the rise of multicultural philosophies and policies in America Franco argues that from the formative years of multiculturalism 1965-1975 Jewish writers probed the ethics and not just the politics of civil rights and cultural recognition this perspective arose from a stance of keen awareness of the limits and possibilities of consensus based civil and human rights Contemporary Jewish writers are now responding to global problems of cultural conflict and pluralism and thinking through the challenges and responsibilities of cosmopolitanism Indeed if the United States is now correctly if cautiously identifying itself as a post ethnic nation it may be said that Jewish writing has been well ahead of the curve in imagining what a post ethnic future might look like and in critiquing the social conventions of race and ethnicity

Anti-War Theatre After Brecht Lara Stevens, 2016-06-17 Examining the ways in which contemporary Western theatre protests against the War on Terror this book analyses six twenty first century plays that respond to the post 9/11 military operations in Afghanistan Iraq and Palestine The plays are written by some of the most significant writers of this century and the last including Elfriede Jelinek Caryl Churchill Hélène Cixous and Tony Kushner Anti war Theatre After Brecht grapples with the problem of how to make theatre that protests the policies of democratically elected Western governments in a post Marxist era It shows how the Internet has become a key tool for disseminating anti war play texts and how online social media forums are changing traditional dramatic aesthetics and broadening opportunities for spectator access engagement and interaction with a work and the political alternatives it puts forward

Imagining Human Rights in Twenty-First Century Theater F. Becker, P. Hernández, B. Werth, 2012-12-27 There is extraordinary diversity depth and complexity in the encounter between theatre performance and human rights Through an examination of a rich repertoire of plays and performance practices from and about countries across six continents the contributors open the way toward understanding the character and significance of this encounter

Tony Kushner's Postmodern Theatre Hussein Al-Badri, 2014-10-21 The book is an insightful and thorough examination of one of the most prominent political dramatists in the US today Tony Kushner and his theatricalization of politics Moreover it draws heavily on Kushner's wide range of themes and techniques As such it will be beneficial for graduate students and scholars who are concerned with the realm of contemporary American drama at the threshold of the twenty first century In addition the book will appeal to anyone who wants a deeper understanding of Kushner and his major influences such as Bertolt Brecht and will also be valuable for readers with a general interest in American drama This book is primarily concerned with exploring and analyzing political discourse as dramatized in the work of Tony Kushner The author's point of departure is the concept of political theatre as developed by Erwin Piscator and Bertolt Brecht This theoretical exploration serves a double purpose first it is meant to provide a statement of the definitions and concepts central to this study such as political discourse political theatre and postmodern theatre second it offers the tools of analysis by which to read and analyze Tony Kushner's postmodern politically oriented texts Through this the book defines the major features of Kushner's postmodern theatre and explores how he theatricalizes politics American drama in the 1980s and the 1990s witnessed a noticeable thematic shift from the exclusively personal plays and musicals that once dominated American theatre for a long period of time to an increasing number of plays which put greater emphasis on exploring issues and questions of socio political interest As a result of this thematic shift the predominantly private settings and familial character relationships of the traditional family play have been replaced by a great variety of public settings and non familial characters Tony Kushner's theatre is a pioneering attempt in this respect In Kushner's theatre there is no room for the traditional family plays which dominated the American stage in the 1960s and 1970s Kushner has found that there is not enough political discourse in contemporary American Theatre For this reason he writes his plays to shed special light on the politics of American society in the 1980s the 1990s and in the beginnings of the 21st century Understanding Tony Kushner James Fisher, 2008 He concludes with a reading of the teleplay of Angels in America and the screenplays for Munich and the forthcoming film Lincoln both directed by Steven Spielberg exploring how Kushner moves his themes from stage to screen Performing Loss Jodi Kanter, 2007-11-13 In Performing Loss: Rebuilding Community through Theater and Writing author Jodi Kanter explores opportunities for creativity and growth within our collective responses to grief Performing Loss provides teachers students and others interested in performance with strategies for reading writing and performing loss as communities in the classroom the theater and the wider public sphere From an adaptation of Jose Saramago's novel Blindness to a reading of Suzan Lori Parks's The America Play from Kanter's own experience creating theater with terminally ill patients and federal prisoners to a visual artist's response to September 11th Kanter shows in practical replicable detail how performing loss with community members can transform experiences of isolation and paralysis into experiences of solidarity and action Drawing on academic work in performance cultural studies literature sociology and anthropology Kanter considers a range of responses to grief in historical context and goes on to imagine newer more collaborative and more civically engaged responses Performing Loss describes Kanter's pedagogical and artistic processes in lively and vivid detail enabling the reader to use her projects as models or to adapt the techniques to new communities venues and purposes Kanter demonstrates through each example the ways in which writing and performing can create new possibilities for mourning and
