The Medusa Horror Drew Lamark,1983-01-01      Bloodscripts Elana Gomel,2003 We live in an increasingly violent world From suicide terrorists to serial killers violent subjects challenge our imaginations We seek answers to our questions on this subject in literature cinema and electronic media In Bloodscripts Elana Gomel examines how popular culture narratives construct violent subjectivity Using such various narratives as mystery horror detective and fantasy fiction as well as accounts of the atrocities perpetuated by serial killers and the Holocaust Bloodscripts offers a new map of the genres of violence and links the twin obsessions of postmodern culture crime and genocide Bloodscripts is a stimulating original and accessible account of the narrative construction of the violent subject It proposes a narrative model that will be of interest to literary critics cultural scholars criminologists and anyone trying to understand the role of violence in postmodern culture

Goethe's Faust Hans Schulte,John Noyes,Pia Kleber,2011-05-05 Faust has been called the fundamental icon of Western culture and Goethe's inexhaustible poetic drama is the centrepiece of its tradition in literature music and art In recent years this play has experienced something of a renaissance with a surge of studies theatre productions press coverage and public discussions Reflecting this renewed interest leading Goethe scholars in this volume explore the play's striking modernity within its theatrical framework The chapters present new aspects such as the virtuality of Faust the music drama the modernization of evil Faust's blindness the gay Mephistopheles classic beauty and horror as phantasmagoria and Goethe's anticipation of modern science economics and ecology The book contains an illustrated section on Faust in modern performance with contributions by renowned directors critics and dramaturges and a major interview with Peter Stein director of the uncut millennium production of Expo 2000

Hazardous Future Isabel Capeloa Gil,Christoph Wulf,2015-03-30 Since culture the media and the arts deal with the perception and the processing of catastrophe what kind of social knowledge does this process produce and how does it contribute to the sustainable development of societies The book seeks to understand how societies and cultures deal with disaster and the rhetorical means they resort to in order to represent it It is situated on the cusp between the response to natural catastrophe the renewed awareness of human vulnerability in the face of environmental hazard and irresponsible policies and the social role of traditional knowledge and humanistic ideas for the preservation of human communities It aims to be diverse in disciplinary allegiance and cultural situation and relevant by bringing together articles by well known scholars and policy makers to jointly discuss the possibilities of reframing hazard for the future so that one may learn from restored behavior instead of repeating the mistakes of the past

Dark Romanticism Silvia Riccardi,2025-07-10 This book explores the dark regions of Romantic imagination in late eighteenth and early nineteenth century literature and art It uncovers the palpable and pleasing anxiety about the human body in the works of Henry Fuseli William Blake and Mary Shelley focusing on the negotiations of pleasure and pain life and death beauty and monstrosity Each of the works examined revolves in some manner around the breakdown of an idealized body in order to illuminate the transition from organic to fragmented form This approach involves reorienting conventional accounts of Romanticism around the emergence of a visual paradigm Engaging with cultures of print aesthetic discourse anatomical art as well as natural historical knowledge circulating in England at the turn of the century Dark Romanticism cultivates visual literacy and argues that literary and pictorial elements are inseparable when imagination is at work The Hydra's Tale R. Rawdon Wilson,2002-05 Imagine a disgusting experience Now think about your response What was it about the moment that made you turn your head that led your lip to curl and nose to wrinkle Disgust has many triggers some obvious others less so What disgusts us is never irrevocably fixed and certain It changes from culture to culture and even at times within a culture This fluidity makes the term disgust at once deadly simple and extremely complex In The Hydra's Tale Robert Rawdon Wilson treats the experience of disgust not from the perspective of the disgusting object in the world but from its representation Disgust marks either a slip over the border of the socially sanctioned or a struggle to keep someone or something from crossing that border Working through the spectrum of human response culture and art Wilson teases out the assumptions that underpin the disgust response Medusa's Mirrors Julia M. Walker,1998 The question of selfhood in Renaissance texts constitutes a scholarly and critical debate of almost unmanageable proportions The author of this work begins by questioning the strategies with which male writers depict powerful women Although Spenser's Britomart Shakespeare's Cleopatra and Milton's Eve figure selfhood very differently and to very different ends they do have two significant elements in common mirrors and transformations that diminish the power of the female self Medusa E.
