The Nigeria Police In Transition:

Policing Developing Democracies Mercedes S. Hinton, Tim Newburn, 2008-09-25 There are enormous challenges in establishing policing systems in young democracies. Such societies typically have a host of unresolved pressing social, economic and political questions that impinge on policing and the prospects for reform. There are a series of hugely important questions arising in this context to do with the emergence of the new security agenda, the problems of transnational crime and international terrorism, the rule of law and the role of the police, security services and the military. This is a field that is not only of growing academic interest but is now the focus of a very significant police reform industry. Development agencies and entrepreneurs are involved around the globe in attempts to establish democratic police reforms in countries with little or no history of such activity. Consequently there is a growing literature in this field but as yet no single volume that brings together the central developments. This book gathers together scholars from political science, international relations and criminology to focus on the issues raised by policing within developing democracies, examining countries in Eastern Europe, Asia, South America and Africa.

Law in Transition Ruth Buchanan, Peer Zumbansen, 2014-12-01 Law has become the vehicle by which countries in the developing world, including post-conflict states or states undergoing constitutional transformation, must steer the course of social and economic, legal and political change. Legal mechanisms, in particular the instruments as well as concepts of human rights, play an increasingly central role in the discourses and practices of both development and transitional justice. These developments can be seen as part of a tendency towards convergence within the wider set of discourses and practices in global governance. While this process of convergence of formerly distinct normative and conceptual fields of theory and practice has been both celebrated and critiqued at the level of theory, the present collection provides, through a series of studies drawn from a variety of contexts in which human rights advocacy and transitional justice initiatives are colliding with development projects, programmes and objectives, a more nuanced and critical account of contemporary developments. The book includes essays by many of the leading experts writing at the intersection of development, rights and transitional justice studies. Notwithstanding the theoretical and practical challenges presented by the complex interaction of these fields, the premise of the book is that it is only through engagement and dialogue among hitherto distinct fields of scholarship and practice that a better understanding of the institutional and normative issues arising in contemporary law and development and transitional justice contexts will be possible. The book is designed for research and teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels.

ENDORSEMENTS An extraordinary collection of essays that illuminate the nature of law in today's fragmented and uneven globalized world by situating the stakes of law in the intersection between the fields of human rights, development and transitional justice. Unusual for its breadth and the quality of scholarly contributions from many who are top scholars in their fields, this volume is one of the first that attempts to weave the three specialized fields and succeeds brilliantly. For anyone working in the fields of development studies human rights or transitional justice this volume is a wake up call to abandon their preconceived ideas and frames and aim for a conceptual and programmatic restart Professor Balakrishnan Rajagopal Ford International Associate Professor of Law and Development Massachusetts Institute of Technology This superb collection of essays explores the challenges possibilities and limits faced by scholars and practitioners seeking to imagine forms of law that can respond to social transformation Drawing together cutting edge work across the three dynamic fields of law and development transitional justice and international human rights law this volume powerfully demonstrates that in light of the changes demanded of legal research education and practice in a globalizing world all law is law in transition Anne Orford Michael D Kirby Chair of International Law and Australian Research Council Future Fellow University of Melbourne A terrific volume Leading scholars of human rights development policy and transitional justice look back and into the future What has worked Where have these projects gone astray or conflicted with one another Law will only contribute forcefully to justice development and peaceful sustainable change if the lessons learned here give rise to a new practical wisdom We all hope law can do better the essays collected here begin to show us how David Kennedy Manley O Hudson Professor of Law Director Institute for Global Law and Policy Harvard Law School Managing Conflicts in Africa's Democratic Transitions Akanmu G. Adebayo, 2012-08-31 The democratization process which bolstered a culture of periodic elections has also fostered election related violent conflicts As democratic transitions gained currency in the new millennium orderly transitions through the ballot boxes began replacing military coups but deaths and destructions came in the wake of elections in many countries Inspired by decades long pro democracy movements across Africa that culminated in the Arab Spring of 2010 2011 and motivated by the desire to find long term solutions to election related violent conflicts in the continent this book explores the terrain of democratization elections and conflict management It raises and answers many questions such as What are the root causes of election related conflicts How free fair and credible are elections in many African countries What institutional mechanisms are available for ballot and voter security and for mandate protection What has been the role of civil society organizations in conflict prevention and management What are the responsibilities of the international community especially regional organizations like the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and the African Union AU in conflict resolution What indigenous mechanisms for conflict management have been identified that may be proactively engaged

The Nigeria Police in International Peace-keeping Under the United Nations O. B. C. Nwolise, 2004 Territory and Power in Constitutional Transitions George Anderson, Sujit Choudhry, 2019-03-07 This collection of essays surveys the full range of challenges that territorial conflicts pose for constitution making processes and constitutional design It provides seventeen in depth case studies of countries going through periods of intense constitutional engagement in a variety of contexts small distinct territories bi communal countries highly diverse countries with many politically salient regions and countries where territorial politics is important but secondary to other bases for political mobilization Specific examples are drawn from Iraq Kenya Cyprus Nigeria South Africa Sri Lanka the UK Scotland Ukraine Bolivia India Spain Yemen Nepal Ethiopia Indonesia Aceh the Philippines Mindanao and Bosnia Herzegovina While the volume draws significant normative conclusions it is based on a realist view of the complexity of territorial and other political cleavages the country s political geometry and the power configurations that lead into periods of constitutional engagement Thematic chapters on constitution making processes and constitutional design draw original conclusions from the comparative analysis of the case studies and relate these to the existing literature both in political science and comparative constitutional law This volume is essential reading for scholars of federalism consociational power sharing arrangements asymmetrical devolution and devolution more generally The combination of in depth case studies and broad thematic analysis allows for analytical and normative conclusions that will be of major relevance to practitioners and advisors engaged in constitutional design

Justice and Economic Violence in Transition Dustin N. Sharp, 2013-09-14 This book examines the role of economic violence violations of economic and social rights corruption and plunder of natural resources within the transitional justice agenda Because economic violence often leads to conflict is perpetrated during conflict and continues afterwards as a legacy of conflict a greater focus on economic and social rights issues in the transitional justice context is critical One might add that insofar as transitional justice is increasingly seen as an instrument of peacebuilding rather than a simple political transition focus on economic violence as the crucial root cause is key to preventing relapse into conflict Recent increasing attention to economic issues by academics and truth commissions suggest this may be slowly changing and that economic and social rights may represent the next frontier of transitional justice concerns There remain difficult questions that have yet to be worked out at the level of theory policy and practice Further scholarship in this regard is both timely and necessary This volume therefore presents an opportunity to fill an important gap The project will bring together new papers by recognized and emerging scholars and policy experts in the field

Transitional Justice, Judicial Accountability and the Rule of Law Hakeem O. Yusuf, 2010-04-29 Transitional Justice Judicial Accountability and the Rule of Law addresses the importance of judicial accountability in transitional justice processes Despite a general consensus that the judiciary plays an important role in contemporary governance accountability for the judicial role in formerly authoritarian societies remains largely elided and under researched Hakeem O Yusuf argues that the purview of transitional justice mechanisms should as a matter of policy be extended to scrutiny of the judicial role in the past Through a critical comparative approach that cuts through the transitioning experiences of post authoritarian and post conflict polities in Latin America Asia Europe and Africa the book focuses specifically on Nigeria It demonstrates that public accountability of the judiciary through the mechanism of a truth seeking process is a necessary component in securing comprehensive accountability for the judicial role in the past Transitional Justice Judicial Accountability and the Rule of Law further shows that an across the board transformation of state institutions an important aspiration of transitional processes is virtually impossible without incorporating the third branch of government the judiciary into the accountability process      Tell,2004      Crime and Policing in Transitional Societies ,2001      Wake Up Nigeria ,1991      Nigeria ,2004      Ekpoma Journal of Social Sciences ,2011-09
