White , 2024-11-14 Justin J White explores the nature of images in ancient Israel through a reconceptualization of the relationship between image and text He proposes that in ancient Israel texts evoked images as a core part of their rhetoric Rather than conceptualizing texts and images as ontologically or functionally distinct media he argues that both media are mixed media even while neither medium is reducible to the other In order to make this argument he focuses on the visual aspects of textual rhetoric what he terms the poetics of visuality He builds his argument across three text specific axes of visual rhetoric ekphrasis the visual imagination and material agency He makes the claim that each of these three axes are endemic to

Israelite literature and mutually contribute to the formation of a robust ontology of visual representation in ancient Israel
