Democracy in East Asia Zhuoyao Li,2020-04-17 This book contributes to both the internal debate in liberalism and the application of political liberalism to the process of democratization in East Asia Beyond John Rawls original intention to limit the scope of political liberalism to only existing and well ordered liberal democracies political liberalism has the potential to inspire and contribute to democratic establishment and maintenance in East Asia Specifically the book has two main objectives First it will demonstrate that political liberalism offers the most promising vision for liberal democracy and it can be defended against contemporary perfectionist objections Second it will show that perfectionist approaches to political Confucianism suffer from practical and theoretical difficulties Instead an alternative model of democracy inspired by political liberalism will be explored in order to achieve a multivariate structure for citizens to come to terms with democracy in their own ways to support a neutral state that ensures the establishment and stability of democracy and to maintain an active public role for Confucianism to prevent it from being banished to the private sphere This model represents a more promising future for democracy in East Asia
