The Hispanic World Biblical Commentary:

The Oxford Handbook of Early Christian Biblical Interpretation Paul M. Blowers, Peter William Martens, 2019 The Bible was the lifeblood of virtually every aspect of the life of the early churches. This Handbook explores a wide array of themes related to the reception, canonization, interpretation, uses, and legacies of the Bible in early Christianity.

Empowering Hispanic Leaders Victor H. Cuartas, 2009 The estimated Hispanic population of the United States was 45.5 million in 2007, making people of Hispanic origin the nation's largest ethnic or race minority. Hispanics constitute 15 percent of the nation's total population. The Latino population in the United States will triple in size and, according to the Census projections, Hispanics will make up 29 percent of the United States population by 2050. This book offers suggestions for training Hispanic leaders who will be involved in ministry in various regions of the United States. The findings of this research project produced information, understanding, and direction that can contribute to the imperative efforts to train emerging leaders for Hispanic groups everywhere. The principles revealed in this study of Hispanic leadership training will prove effective in empowering leaders of other groups in the United States and other countries.

Latin Commentaries on Revelation Bede the Venerable, Victorinus of Petovium, Apringius of Beja, Caesarius of Arles, 2025-09-08 Interest in the book of Revelation in the Western tradition is stronger and earlier than that in the East. The earliest full commentary on the Apocalypse is that of Victorinus of Petovium, written in the mid to late third century by the earliest exegete to write in Latin. Victorinus interpreted Revelation in millennialist terms, a mode of interpretation already evident in works by Irenaeus as well as in modest allegorical terms. Caesarius of Arles wrote in the early sixth century and offered a thoroughgoing allegorical ecclesial interpretation of the Apocalypse. Apringius of Beja, in Portugal, writing in the mid sixth century, drew on Jerome's edition of Victorinus's commentary, yet understood the seven seals christologically as the incarnation, birth, passion, death, resurrection, glory, and kingdom. Bede the Venerable, who died in 735, is the last commentator to be included in this collection. Characteristically, he passes on commentary from earlier exegetes here, including that of Augustine, Gregory the Great, Victorinus, Tyconius, and Primasius. William Weinrich renders a particular service to readers interested in ancient commentary on the Apocalypse by drawing together these significant Latin commentaries. The work of translating these texts was begun in preparing the volume on Revelation in the Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture. We are indebted to William Weinrich for completing this work with his able and fresh translation and notes on these texts. Ancient Christian Texts are new English translations of full length commentaries or sermon series from ancient Christian authors that allow you to study key writings of the early church fathers in a fresh way.

The Missionary Review of the World, 1939 Religious Reading Paul J. Griffiths, 1999-05-13 What social conditions and intellectual practices are necessary in order for religious cultures to flourish? Paul Griffiths finds the answer in religious reading, the kind of reading in which a religious believer allows his mind to be furnished and his heart instructed by a sacred text understood in the light of an authoritative tradition. He favorably contrasts the practices and pedagogies of traditional religious cultures with those of our own fragmented and secularized culture and insists that religious reading should be preserved     The Classical Review ,1888 This companion to the Classical Quarterly contains reviews of new work dealing with the literatures and civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome Over 300 books are reviewed each year     The Hispanic American Historical Review James Alexander Robertson,2004 Includes Bibliographical section     Texts and Studies, Contributions to Biblical and Patristic Literature: Old Latin and the Itala / by F.C.
