Bennett,Richard Firth

Green,2004 The Singer and the Scribe brings together studies of the European ballad from the Middle Ages to the twentieth century by major authorities in the field and is of interest to students of European literature popular traditions and folksong It offers an original view of the development of the ballad by focusing on the interplay and interdependence of written and oral transmission including studies of modern singers and their repertoires and of the role of the audience in generating a literary product which continues to live in performance While using specific case studies the contributors systematically extend their reflections on the ballad as song and as poetry to draw broader conclusions Covering the Hispanic world including the Sephardic tradition Scandinavia The Netherlands Greece Russia England and Scotland the essays also demonstrate the interconnections of a European tradition beyond national boundaries The Late Victorian Folksong

Revival E. David Gregory,2010-04-13 In The Late Victorian Folksong Revival The Persistence of English Melody 1878 1903 E David Gregory provides a reliable and comprehensive history of the birth and early development of the first English folksong revival Continuing where Victorian Songhunters his first book left off Gregory systematically explores what the Late

Victorian folksong collectors discovered in the field and what they published for posterity identifying differences between the songs noted from oral tradition and those published in print In doing so he determines the extent to which the collectors distorted what they found when publishing the results of their research in an era when some folksong texts were deemed unsuitable for polite ears The book provides a reliable overall survey of the birth of a movement tracing the genesis and development of the first English folksong revival It discusses the work of more than a dozen song collectors focusing in particular on three key figures the pioneer folklorist in the English west country Reverend Sabine Baring Gould Frank Kidson who greatly increased the known corpus of Yorkshire song and Lucy Broadwood who collected mainly in the counties of Sussex and Surrey and with Kidson and others was instrumental in founding the Folk Song Society in the late 1890s The book includes copious examples of the song tunes and texts collected including transcriptions of nearly 300 traditional ballads broadside ballads folk lyrics occupational songs carols shanties and national songs demonstrating the abundance and high quality of the songs recovered by these early collectors
