State and Countryside Merilee Serrill Grindle, 1986 What is responsible for the persistence of underdevelopment in rural Latin America Merilee S Grindle analyzes the role of public policies in stimulating agrarian change in Latin America from 1940 to 1980 State and Countryside Merilee S. Grindle, 1985-12-01 Franklin in the Dark In the Franklin Classic Storybook that started it all poor little Franklin has one of the most common childhood afflictions he is afraid of the dark This is particularly difficult for Franklin as he happens to be a turtle and the darkness he fears is of course inside his own shell Bravely with shell in tow he sets forth to seek help and in the course of his travels discovers a bird who is afraid of heights a polar bear who is afraid of the cold and even a hydrophobic duck In the end Franklin discovers that everybody even his own mother is afraid of something and his response to what he has learned is guaranteed to draw a smile Franklin Says I Love You In this Franklin Classic Storybook our hero is a very lucky turtle He has the best friends the best little sister the best goldfish and of course the best mother But when he discovers that his mother s birthday is coming up he can t find the best present After giving it some serious thought Franklin decides to do everything for his mom On the morning of her birthday he takes her breakfast in bed makes a brooch draws a picture and cuts fresh flowers from the garden And then Franklin gives his mom a great big hug and says I love you which is of course the best gift of all Franklin and the Thunderstorm In this Franklin Classic Storybook Franklin is afraid of thunderstorms When a storm approaches while he is playing at Fox s house a flash of lightning sends Franklin into his shell He refuses to come out even for snacks until his friends make him laugh with their tall tales about what causes storms And when Beaver explains what really causes thunder and lightning Franklin begins to feel much safer This is a fixed format ebook which preserves the design and layout of the original print book theory The author suggests that recent political economy research suggests that it is time to redefine the problem of urban bias Viewed as a collective engagement with the urban bias theory this volume presents the new research along with the responses of Bates and Lipton These studies do not add up to an alternative theory of why the state behaves the way it does towards the countryside They do however point to the factors that need careful attention in future research These papers can be seen as building blocks for the construction of an alternative theory of the state and agriculture Current Land Policy

In this thought provoking collection, some of the leading thinkers in Development Studies come together to examine the history of their multi disciplinary subject from its emergence during the era of decolonization half a century ago to its contemporary emphasis on poverty reduction. They combine personal and institutional reflections with an examination of key themes including the intrusion into a subject traditionally dominated by Economics of social development considerations, gender awareness and environmental concerns. They draw attention to those ongoing critiques of development studies including Marxism and post development discourse which have been so often marginalized in representations of the mainstream development discourse.
