Celie and Shug the initiator of her transformation and marginally the influence of her newly created social network will be taken into account. Lastly I will examine the final stage and result of her development: the evolution of a dignified self-confident woman. Eventually Chapter 5 will provide a brief summary of the discussion. Furthermore it will evaluate Celie's process in consideration of the given task and highlight the importance and universal validity of her development. The literature I have concentrated on is in large part taken from journals that hold a broad range of essays on The Color Purple in general and on the character Celie in particular. However first and foremost the research refers to Alice Walker's novel itself. As no single comprehensive analysis on The Color Purple exists I will not focus on one academic only but instead take different perspectives into account. However I would like to point out the essays of Daniel Ross, Charles Proudfoot, Emma Waters, Dawson and Trudier Harris as they were rather useful for my discussion.

Alice Walker's The Color Purple Kheven LaGrone, 2009. Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize winning novel The Color Purple is a tale of personal empowerment which opens with a protagonist Celie who is at the bottom of America's social caste. A poor black ugly and uneducated female in the America's Jim Crow South in the first half of the 20th century she is the victim of constant rape, violence and misogynistic verbal abuse. Celie cannot conceive of an escape from her present condition and so she learns to be passive and unemotional. But The Color Purple eventually demonstrates how Celie learns to fight back and how she discovers her true sexuality and her unique voice. By the end of the novel Celie is an empowered financially independent entrepreneur/landowner, one who speaks her mind and realizes the desirability of black femaleness while creating a safe space for herself and those she loves. Through a journey of literary criticism Dialogue Alice Walker's The Color Purple follows Celie's transformation from victim to hero. Each scholarly essay becomes a step of the journey that paves the way for the development of self and sexual awareness, the beginnings of religious transformation and the creation of nurturing places like home and community.

Alice Walker's the Color Purple Dina Benevol, Barry Spurr, 1995

"The Color Purple" by Alice Walker - an Analysis Katharina Eder, 2011-05. Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies. Literature grade 1. University of Vienna. language English. abstract: The Color Purple is Alice Walker's masterpiece which made the author not only the first female Afro-American author to receive a Pulitzer Prize but moreover brought her world fame and a broader recognition of her other works. This analysis of the text focuses on motifs, themes and symbolism used in the story. It also talks about the author by giving an in-depth overview not only about her life but also the sociocultural background that shaped this novel. As mentioned before a clear focus is put on themes, symbols and motifs in the novel which are widely used and therefore also are somehow responsible for the diversity of approaches to reading the novel. The textual analysis is enhanced by a brief summary of the plot, characters and their relationship as well as a compressed paragraph talking about the setting and an overview over some narrative techniques used in the novel.
