Joseph Harker

Sobukwe And Apartheid With A New Epilogue:

Ending Apartheid Jack Spence, David Welsh, 2014-06-06 The release of Nelson Mandela from twenty seven years imprisonment in 1990 and the free elections which followed four years later were among the most dramatic events of the twentieth century David Welsh and J E Spence here examine the complex forces which lay behind that drama They chart the rise and decline of apartheid ideology in South Africa the internal insurrection and increased international isolation which characterised the 1980s and the political roller coaster ride of the period after 1990 as constitutional negotiations got underway Based on extensive interviews with those involved Ending Apartheid traces the negotiating process in penetrating detail noting the political skills of de Klerk and Mandela in keeping their potentially unruly constituencies in line and avoiding the major violence that many had predicted Reaching agreement on a democratic constitution was a major achievement that surprised many sceptical observers but the book ends on a more sombre note Reviewing the period subsequent to the transition it argues that while progress has been made the future of South Africa s democracy is still far from assured Written by two eminent scholars with decades of experience teaching in the field Ending Apartheid is an invaluable resource for all students of South African politics seeking a deeper understanding of a defining episode in recent history

Gerhart, 1997 The essays are meticulous and carefully documented accounts which maintain the standard of excellence set by the previous volumes all of which belong in every library Choice Based on extensive documentary archives collected by these researchers and augmented by interviews with virtually all of the significant antiapartheid activists this volume covers a formative period in the struggle against white minority rule 1964 1979 Africa Today a substantial achievement a wonderful resource for future generations of scholars South African Historical Journal Karis and Gerhart s fifth volume is an invaluable addition to their earlier documentary history of the national liberation struggle in South Africa and includes a priceless collection of new primary historical sources It ignites vivid flashes of memory from the Foreword by Nelson Mandela Volume 5 of this magnificent historical record continues the indispensable study of the struggle for freedom and justice in South Africa In addition to extensive background essays it includes formal documents underground and ephemeral materials and statements written in exile or in Robben Island prison that have not previously been published The Price of Racial Reconciliation Ronald Walters, 2009-07-09 Presents the conceptual difficulties involved in the project of racial reconciliation by a comparative analysis of South African Truth and Reconciliation and the demand for Reparations in the United States

Magaziner, 2010 No nation can win a battle without faith Steve Biko wrote and as Daniel R Magaziner demonstrates in The Law and the Prophets the combination of ideological and theological exploration proved a potent force The 1970s are a decade virtually lost to South African historiography This span of years bridged the banning and exile of the country s best known antiapartheid leaders in the early 1960s and the furious protests that erupted after the Soweto uprisings of June 16 1976 Scholars thus know that something happened yet they have only recently begun to explore how and why The Law and the Prophets is an intellectual history of the resistance movement between 1968 and 1977 it follows the formation early trials and ultimate dissolution of the Black Consciousness movement It differs from previous antiapartheid historiography however in that it focuses more on ideas than on people and organizations Its singular contribution is an exploration of the theological turn that South African politics took during this time Magaziner argues that only by understanding how ideas about race faith and selfhood developed and were transformed in this period might we begin to understand the dramatic changes that took place Publisher description Dreaming of Freedom in South Africa David Johnson, 2019-10-14 Assembles for the first time the many different texts imagining the future after the end of apartheid Explores the history of how the future in South Africa after the end of apartheid was imagined Provides the first literary cultural history of South African speculative fiction Studies the literary political cultures of the five major traditions of South African anti colonial anti segregationist anti apartheid thought Focusing on well known and obscure literary texts from the 1880s to the 1970s as well as the many manifestos and programmes setting out visions of the future this book charts the dreams of freedom of five major traditions

Texturing Difference Maurits van Bever Donker, 2024-12-03 This book situates the nuanced intervention of the Black Consciousness Movement in South Africa within the international conjuncture of anti colonial thought and decolonization It argues that the Black Consciousness Movement in addition to its urgent political focus should also be read as a philosophical intervention on the problem of Man that haunts the idea of race As Steve Biko once famously said apartheid will end the real question is what comes after apartheid Maurits van Bever Donker argues that the Black Consciousness Movement found intellectual and conceptual allies in the writings of Frantz Fanon and Aimé Césaire tracing the problem of race as foundational to what is called the script of Man and in the process inventing the possibility of a new sense of Man one with a more human face While the work of figures like Biko Fanon and Césaire tends to be read as discrete political texts in a broader field of negritude and radical black thought Texturing Difference explores what becomes possible when this network of texts is read from the perspective of South Africa This intervention has significance not only for how race is approached and understood in South Africa but for the global workings of race in our time
