Negotiation in Social Conflict Dean G. Pruitt, Peter J. Carnevale, 1993 This text presents a research based analysis of negotiation It examines the nature of negotiator strategies and tactics and their impact on the outcomes of negotiation It also looks at the psychological states the motives and perceptions that determine negotiator behaviours and the antecedents of these states Among the antecedents examined are the negotiator's role in his or her organization conflict style the other party's behaviour the way the issues are framed and various aspects of the relationship between the parties Negotiation is viewed as one of several procedures available for dealing with social conflict other examples being mediation arbitration and independent action by the disputants One of these alternative procedures mediation is discussed in depth because of its close relationship to negotiation There is also a chapter on choices among procedures which helps understand how people enter and leave negotiation

Complex Interpersonal Conflict Behaviour Evert Van der Vliert, 2013-05-24 This book is about reactions to interpersonal conflict such as avoiding negotiating and fighting It breaks away from the prevailing assumption that conflict behaviours are mutually isolated reactions having mutually isolated effects Instead reactions are viewed as components of complex conflict behaviour that influence each other's impact on the substantive and relational outcomes The simultaneous and sequential occurrence of for example problem solving and fighting should therefore be studied together and not separately The author presents a ladder of stepwise increases in theoretical quality and designs the sequence of chapters in such a way that the theoretical value increases step by step The lower steps lead to the description of behavioural components and to a model of integrative and distributive dimensions The upper steps lead to the dimensions of dual concern for one's own and the other's goals and to complexity explanations in terms of the novel paradigm of conglomerated conflict behaviour The chapters are summarised into thirty four interrelated propositions Six empirical studies demonstrate the validity of crucial propositions at each level of the theoretical framework This monograph primarily reaches out to an academic readership However due to its clear structure its comprehensive propositions its frequent use of figures and its glossary the book will also provide an invaluable resource for any student and practitioner interested in conflict management and negotiation

Cultural Strategies of Agenda Denial Roger W. Cobb, Marc Howard Ross, 1997 This is the first book devoted to examining why some issues proposed by aggrieved individuals or groups are denied access to policy agendas The book contains case studies that look at the policy process from the perspective of the strategies opponents often use to ensure agenda denial strategies usually motivated by perceived threats to widely held world views and identities The Reactive Devaluation Barrier to Conflict Resolution ,1988 Conflict Resolution Kevin Avruch,Peter W. Black,Joseph A. Scimecca,1998-07-23 This unique collection of comparable case studies addresses the need to assess modes of conflict resolution in a larger sociocultural context with attention to varying approaches and cultural perspectives Editors Avruch Black and Scimecca along with other anthropologists and sociologists propose and test different propositions while looking toward a general theory of conflict and conflict resolution They offer a broad range of vantage points for considering conflict resolution in five different cultures Conflict resolution is seen as an emerging discipline Conflict, Negotiation and Dispute Resolution Sung Hee Kim,1991 International Negotiation and Mediation in Violent Conflict Chester A. Crocker,Fen Osler Hampson,Pamela Aall,2018-02-06 This collection of essays situates the study and practice of international mediation and peaceful settlement of disputes within a changing global context The book is organized around issues of concern to practitioners including the broader regional global and institutional context of mediation and how this broader environment shapes the opportunities and prospects for successful mediation A major theme is complexity and how the complex contemporary context presents serious challenges to mediation This environment describes a world where great power rivalries and politics are coming back into play and international and regional organizations are playing different roles and facing different kinds of constraints in the peaceful settlement of disputes The first section discusses the changing international environment for conflict management and reflects on some of the challenges that this changing environment raises for addressing conflict Part II focuses on the consequences of bringing new actors into third party engagement and examines what may be harbingers for how we will attempt to resolve conflict in the future The third section turns to the world of practice and discusses mediation statecraft and how to employ it in this current international environment The volume aims to situate the practice and study of mediation within this wider social and political context to better understand the opportunities and constraints of mediation in today s world The value of the book lies in its focus on complex and serious issues that challenge both mediators and scholars This volume will be of much interest to students practitioners and policymakers in the area of international negotiation mediation conflict resolution and international relations Encyclopedia of Conflict Resolution Heidi Burgess,Guy M.
