Social Construction Of Intellectual Disability:

The Social Construction of Intellectual Disability Mark Rapley, 2004-06-10 Intellectual disability is usually thought of as a form of internal individual affliction little different from diabetes paralysis or chronic illness This study the first book length application of discursive psychology to intellectual disability shows that what we usually understand as being an individual problem is actually an interactional or social product Through a range of case studies which draw upon ethnomethodological and conversation analytic scholarship the book shows how persons categorized as intellectually disabled are produced as such in and through their moment by moment interaction with care staff and other professionals

The Faces of Intellectual Disability Licia Carlson, 2010 The Faces of Intellectual Disability challenges current thinking about cognitive impairment in order to come to terms with what it means to treat people with intellectual disabilities in an ethical manner As she embraces the task of reassessing philosophical views of intellectual disability Licia Carlson shows how we can affirm the dignity and worth of intellectually disabled people by dropping comparisons to nonhuman animals and confronting fears and discomforts about mental impairment Carlson presents a complex history of ideas and notions about cognitive impairment the treatment of intellectually disabled people and social and cultural reactions to them Sensitive and clearly argued this book offers significant new thinking on recent trends in disability studies and philosophy

Disability & the Politics of Education Susan Lynn Gabel, Scot Danforth, 2008 Disability and the Politics of Education An International Reader is a rich resource that deals comprehensively with the many aspects of the complex topic of disability studies in education For nearly two decades global attention has been given to education as a human right through global initiatives such as Education for All EFA and the Salamanca Statement Yet according to UNESCO reaching the goals of EFA remains one of the most daunting challenges facing the global community Today millions of the world s disabled children cannot obtain a basic childhood education particularly in countries with limited resources Even in the wealthiest countries many disabled children and youth are educationally segregated from the nondisabled particularly if they are labeled with significant cognitive impairment International agencies such as the United Nations and the World Bank have generated funds for educational development but unfortunately these funds are administered with the assumption that west is best thereby urging developing countries to mimic educational policies in the United States and the United Kingdom in order to prove their aid worthiness This McDonaldization of education reproduces the labeling resource allocation and social dynamics long criticized in disability studies The authors in this volume explore these subjects and other complexities of disability and the politics of education In doing so they demonstrate the importance and usefulness of international perspectives and comparative approaches

Countering Discrimination in Social Work Bogdan Lesnik,1998 Discrimination Isn t there enough talk about discrimination Yes indeed That is why we have to begin countering discrimination We need strategies that will make it inoperative or at least limit its scope But first we need to think how discrimination works and identify it where it works It concerns far more than mere procedural hitches for which a few legal provisions will do Countering Discrimination Volume 1998 of International Perspectives in Social Work yearbook brings papers that analyse mechanisms of social discrimination in a variety of such locations and bring proposals for counter strategies This is essential in social work if causes rather than manifestations of the problems it is concerned with are to be addressed But it is also essential that everybody who opposes discrimination recognise its subtle and dispersed ways of operation in the human services regardless of their own basic field of work In this respect the book will be useful to a very wide audience Australian Book Review ,1997 Journal of Disability Policy Studies ,2012 Quest ,2007 The Oxford Companion to Australian History Graeme Davison, Stuart Macintyre, John Bradley Hirst, 1998 This superb new companion provides a comprehensive account of the key events and personalities that have shaped Australian history Approximately 1600 entries provide a wealth of information that will be invaluable to historians students and anyone interested in this country s fascinating history The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2004 Down Syndrome Across the Life Span Monica Cuskelly, 2002 This book promotes a positive message for people with Down syndrome across the world Living with Down Syndrome is a positive experience for the majority of children and adults with Down syndrome and for their families Of course there are difficulties to be faced but quality of life from infancy to old age is determined more by the quality of healthcare education and social inclusion offered to individuals than by the developmental difficulties that are associated with Down syndrome The aim of this book is to bring the latest information on research and good practice to families practitioners and policy makers in order improve the services available to individuals with Down syndrome in all countries American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Language, Interaction and National Identity Stephen Hester, William Housley, 2002 Employing a previously neglected perspective on the construction and communication of national identity this book addresses the lived reality of these identities and explores the level of situated talk and interaction in which they are actually expressed and used
