

SNOHOMISH, My Beloved County

This is a book about freshwater fishing in Snohomish County and a fascinating personal history. Bob Heirman tells of his angling experiences from boyhood to the present day, a span of more than half a century. No doubt, most anglers have never heard of many of the waters described by this long time sportsman, naturalist and conservationist.

The author has served as secretary-treasurer of the Snohomish Sportsmen's Club since 1960 and as president of the Snohomish County Sportsmen's Association since 1975. He has personally planted more backwoods lakes and streams with trout and salmon fry than any other sportsman in Snohomish County history.

The author describes his childhood adventures on the tiny creeks, of present day efforts to enhance them, and why they must be protected. The very future of our salmon and steelhead fishery depends on it. This book did not happen overnight, but slowly evolved through the years. As a former free lance writer for the Snohomish County Tribune, the author's articles were very popular with readers and the people of Snohomish continually asked for more, resulting in his first book, "Snohomish, My Beloved County."

- George Nowadnick, long-time steelheader;
retired teacher, coach, school administrator;
former principal, Snohomish High School.

About the author...

Bob Heirman was born Nov. 20, 1932, in Everett, Washington, owns a home overlooking Blackman Lake in Snohomish and has lived near the lake all his life. He and his wife, Clara Jean, have seven children, six girls and a son: Robin, Jo Ann, Sandee, Margaret, Barbara, Craig and Erin.

He has fished nearly every lake, stream, and brook in Snohomish County. A graduate of Snohomish High School, Heirman was a railroader with many years' experience and retired as an engineer with Burlington Northern. In 1978 he was named outstanding employee among 45,000 B/N workers for his fish enhancement projects.

In addition to a lifetime of volunteer work on behalf of fishing, the handicapped, and the environment, Heirman is a poet, a painter, a newspaper columnist, an untiring writer of letters to the editor, and a singer who helps entertain almost weekly at retirement and nursing homes, funerals, and social gatherings.
