The Last Theorem Arthur C. Clarke, Frederik Pohl, 2008-08-05 Two of science fiction's most renowned writers join forces for a storytelling sensation The historic collaboration between Frederik Pohl and his fellow founding father of the genre Arthur C. Clarke is both a momentous literary event and a fittingly grand farewell from the late great visionary author of 2001 A Space Odyssey The Last Theorem is a story of one man's mathematical obsession and a celebration of the human spirit and the scientific method It is also a gripping intellectual thriller in which humanity facing extermination from all but omnipotent aliens the Grand Galactics must overcome differences of politics and religion and come together or perish In 1637 the French mathematician Pierre de Fermat scrawled a note in the margin of a book about an enigmatic theorem I have discovered a truly marvelous proof of this proposition which this margin is too narrow to contain He also neglected to record his proof elsewhere Thus began a search for the Holy Grail of mathematics a search that didn't end until 1994 when Andrew Wiles published a 150 page proof But the proof was burdensome overlong and utilized mathematical techniques undreamed of in Fermat's time and so it left many critics unsatisfied including young Ranjit Subramanian a Sri Lankan with a special gift for mathematics and a passion for the famous Last Theorem When Ranjit writes a three page proof of the theorem that relies exclusively on knowledge available to Fermat his achievement is hailed as a work of genius bringing him fame and fortune But it also brings him to the attention of the National Security Agency and a shadowy United Nations outfit called Pax per Fidem or Peace Through Transparency whose secretive workings belie its name Suddenly Ranjit together with his wife Myra de Soyza an expert in artificial intelligence and their burgeoning family finds himself swept up in world shaking events his genius for abstract mathematical thought put to uses that are both concrete and potentially deadly Meanwhile unbeknownst to anyone on Earth an alien fleet is approaching the planet at a significant percentage of the speed of light Their mission to exterminate the dangerous species of primates known as homo sapiens
