anthropology was dominated by social anthropologists an achievement of the two founding fathers Bronislaw Malinowski and A R Radcliffe Brown However the field of ethnology had originated in Britain in the 1840s and a broadly based general anthropology was well established before the rise of social anthropology The essays in this volume explore the development of British anthropology in the period from 1880 to 1920 and deal with such diverse issues as the establishment of new research methodologies the development of ethnographic reporting institutional change and the professionalization of the subject and the connection between anthropology and imperialism These essays reveal how the establishment of social anthropology involved a narrowing field which at first involved not just the study of custom but also included archaeology physical anthropology and philology The emergence of the new approaches of the 1920s and 1930s and the triumph of social anthropology as an academic intellectual and professional discipline in post war Britain also led to the subsequent loss of a more holistic vision of anthropology Radcliffe-Brown Isak Niehaus, 2024-11-01 Alfred Radcliffe Brown 1881 1955 is widely renowned as a founder of modern social anthropology This biography challenges popular stereotypes of him as a misplaced positivist and colonial conservative It shows Radcliffe Brown to be a thoroughly cosmopolitan scholar a committed fieldworker and a sharp critic of colonialism Radcliffe Brown engaged strategically with colonial authorities to further the interests of his discipline and invoked scientific credentials to critique central aspects of colonial rule His struggle for intellectual autonomy and advocacy of a comparative sociological approach speaks to many contemporary concerns
