The Phantom Reflection Ann Ashton, 1979-07     The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther, 2024-11-26 How the classic mirror test served as a portal for scientists to explore questions of self awareness Since the late eighteenth century scientists have placed subjects humans infants animals and robots in front of mirrors in order to look for signs of self recognition Mirrors served as the possible means for answering the question What makes us human In The Mirror and the Mind Katja Guenther traces the history of the mirror self recognition test exploring how researchers from a range of disciplines psychoanalysis psychiatry developmental and animal psychology cybernetics anthropology and neuroscience came to read the peculiar behaviors elicited by mirrors Investigating the ways mirrors could lead to both identification and misidentification Guenther looks at how such experiments ultimately failed to determine human specificity The mirror test was thrust into the limelight when Charles Darwin challenged the idea that language sets humans apart Thereafter the mirror previously a recurrent if marginal scientific tool became dominant in attempts to demarcate humans from other animals But because researchers could not rely on language to determine what their nonspeaking subjects were experiencing they had to come up with significant innovations including notation strategies testing protocols and the linking of scientific theories across disciplines From the robotic tortoises of Grey Walter and the mark test of Beulah Amsterdam and Gordon Gallup to anorexia research and mirror neurons the mirror test offers a window into the emergence of such fields as biology psychology psychiatry animal studies cognitive science and neuroscience The Mirror and the Mind offers an intriguing history of experiments in self awareness and the advancements of the human sciences across more than a century

An Anthropological Guide to the Art and Philosophy of Mirror Gazing Maria Danae Koukouti, Lambros Malafouris, 2020-09-03 Looking at one's face in the mirror and finding one's self in the mirror are not the same The former capacity is something we share with other animals the latter is a skill something we have to learn What does it mean and what does it take to find oneself in the mirror This book provides a comparative anthropological enquiry into the unity and diversity of mirror gazing The reader is encouraged to reflect upon and experiment with different mirror gazes through a range of case studies Koukouti and Malafouris weave together anthropology with philosophy and draw on examples from literature and experiments from psychopathology in a way that has never been attempted before The master metaphor is that of the mirror as trap Mirror gazing is viewed on a par with hunting Mirroring signifies the hunt for self knowledge In a time obsessed with the digital self image Koukouti and Malafouris reflect on the structures of consciousness that underpin the different ways of looking at and through the mirror Combining metaphor comparison and estrangement they gesture towards a therapeutic alliance between body and mirroring This allows us to look in the mirror and think of our shared humanity differently

Vocal Apparitions Michal Grover-Friedlander, 2014-12-25 Cinema and opera have become intertwined in a variety of powerful and unusual ways Vocal Apparitions tells the story of this fascinating intersection interprets how it occurred and explores what happens when opera is projected onto the medium of film Michal Grover Friedlander finds striking affinities between film and opera from Lon Chaney s classic silent film The Phantom of the Opera to the Marx Brothers A Night at the Opera to Fellini s E la nave va One of the guiding questions of this book is what occurs when what is aesthetically essential about one medium is transposed into the aesthetic field of the other For example Grover Friedlander s comparison of an opera by Poulenc and a Rossellini film both based on Cocteau s play The Human Voice shows the relation of the vocal and the visual to be surprisingly affected by the choice of the medium Her analysis of the Marx Brothers A Night at the Opera demonstrates how as a response to opera s infatuation with death cinema comically acts out a correction of opera s fate Grover Friedlander argues that filmed operas such as Zeffirelli s Otello and Friedrich s Falstaff show the impossibility of a direct transformation of the operatic into the cinematic Paradoxically cinema at times can be more operatic than opera itself thus capturing something essential that escapes opera s self understanding A remarkable look at how cinema has been haunted and transformed by opera Vocal Apparitions reveals something original and important about each medium    Lord Lytton's Novels Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton,1875    The Mirror of Venus Ovid,1925    -v. 16.
