The Functions of the Police in Modern Society Egon Bittner, 1970      Police Functions in Peace Operations Roxane D. V. Sismanidis, 1997      Discretion in Criminal Justice Lloyd E. Ohlin, Frank J. Remington, 1993-01-01 A retrospective account of the research done in the 1950s by the American Bar Foundation which conducted a pilot survey of the processing of offenders from arrest to prison to observe what actually happened at each decision point instead of assuming that doctrinal legal analyses were sufficient Many of the chief participants in the Survey of Criminal Justice write here about the consequences of the earlier research for subsequent scholarship teaching and policy and reflect on the problem of discretion in criminal justice      The New Policing Herman Goldstein, 1993      Substate Regionalism and the Federal System: Governmental functions and processes United States. Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, 1974

Selected Bibliography on the Nature of the Police Function University of Wisconsin. Law School, 1970      The Functions of the Police in Modern Society Egon Bittner, 1970      Police in Contradiction Cyril Robinson, Richard Scaglione, J M Olivero, 1994 This book formulates a theory of the origin and evolution of the police function using both historical and cross cultural analysis It explains the incremental changes in the police function associated with the transition from kinship based to class dominated societies and examines the implications of these changes for modern police community relations It suggests that the police institution has a double and contradictory function at the same time and in the same society it seeks to be the agent of the people it polices and of the dominant class The authors critique community policing and suggest how communities may be reconstituted in order to create a community police A comprehensive bibliography enhances this study for students teachers and professionals in the fields of criminal justice and sociology      Police Educational

Characteristics and Curricula, Monograph United States. Department of Justice, 1975      Police Educational Characteristics and Curricula Larry T. Hoover, 1975 The monograph consists of an examination of the rationale for higher police educational standards a report of research relevant to the impact of upgrading efforts a critique of current educational programming and the explication of a model criminal justice curriculum appropriate for both police and other criminal justice system personnel Three distinct but related rationales are developed relevant to educational upgrading The rationales involve police ability to control crime perform their order maintenance function and properly exercise discretion The research reported includes an assessment of current police recruit educational levels patterns of employment of collegiate recruits the impact of the Law Enforcement Education Program police cadet programs and agency reward programs the influence of agency characteristics in attracting and retaining collegiate recruits and the impact of the development of educational programs in law enforcement and criminal justice An examination of present educational programming postulates several major deficiencies A model curriculum is proposed which provides a broad theoretical orientation to the entire criminal justice process The model consists of guidelines for twenty criminal justice courses Each guideline includes both selected related readings and a content outline      Document Retrieval Index ,1976      Towards Network Globalization - Proceedings Of The 1991 Singapore International Conference Of Networks (Sicon '91) Gee Swee Poo,1991-08-29 With globalization in every area of human activity being a key trend of the1990s better and faster networks will have an increasingly important role and impact in making the global village a reality The papers collected in this volume highlight the global nature of the activities and the tremendous pace of R D in the field of communications and networking
