Developmental-Behavioral Disorders Marvin I. Gottlieb, John E. Williams, 2013-03-07 Child development has always been a traditional component of well child care and a particular area of interest for pediatricians child neurologists and psychologists However it was not until the early 1960s that children with developmental disabilities i.e. chronic handicapping disorders became a major focus of public and professional attention During this period children with special needs were dramatically catapulted into the limelight and exceptional became the buzzword of the day Public and professional awareness of these issues reached new peaks and recognition of the potential psychosocial impairments of children with developmental disabilities created national anxiety A variety of factors contributed to an unprecedented societal advocacy for children with developmental problems 1 a national concern generated by President Kennedy's particular interest in mental retardation 2 increased activity and visibility of parent advocacy lobbying groups e.g. the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities 3 the enactment of federal legislation designed to protect the rights of the handicapped e.g. PL94-142 and 4 the popularization of developmental behavioral disabilities by the various communications media Cumulatively these events precipitated a redefinition of the real meaning of comprehensive health care for children resulting in an emphasis on the child's neurodevelopmental educational psychological and social needs For the pediatrician a myriad of new management responsibilities were mandated in addition to the traditional health care concerns      Latchkey Kids Bryan E. Robinson, Bobbie H. Rowland, Mick Coleman, 1986 Researches the problems some children must face on their own as latchkey kids      Latchkey Children in the Library & Community Frances S. Dowd, 1991-08-26 This book reports on what is happening and what could happen to latchkey children in terms of the community as a whole and specifically in regard to public libraries It addresses the need for a definitive work to guide librarians in serving latchkey children more effectively      Larry and the Latchkey Kid Dorothy Nimchuk, Logan Canyon Dais, 2009-03      Improving Child Care Services United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Children, Youth, and Families, 1985      The Latchkey Children Eric Allen, 1963      The Latchkey Kid. Spoken Word.
