Struggle and Success Paola A. Sensi-Isolani,Phylis Cancilla Martinelli,1993-02-01     From All Points Elliott Robert Barkan,2007-05-11 A history of immigrants in the American West in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and their effect on the region At a time when immigration policy is the subject of heated debate this book makes clear that the true wealth of America is in the diversity of its peoples By the end of the twentieth century the American West was home to nearly half of America's immigrant population including Asians and Armenians Germans and Greeks Mexicans Italians Swedes Basques and others This book tells their rich and complex story of adaptation and isolation maintaining and mixing traditions and an ongoing ebb and flow of movement assimilation and replenishment These immigrants and their children built communities added to the region's culture and contended with discrimination and the lure of Americanization The mark of the outsider the alien the nonwhite passed from group to group even as the complexion of the region changed The region welcomed then excluded immigrants in restless waves of need and nativism that continue to this day Written in the fashion of Oscar Handlin this study makes a convincing case that immigration history comprises an essential part of the history of the American West and that appreciation of the former and the roles played by myriad alien arrivals is essential for understanding the latter Barkan combines vignettes based on immigrant reminiscences with keen analysis to explore four related themes various groups arrivals their economic influences their effects on public policy and their adaptation and assimilation The resulting narrative is readable and informative Recommended Choice A remarkable synthesis of the West as a region of immigrants It tells the story of how vital immigrants were to economic growth and modernization This will be the prime reference for 21st century scholars of immigration and ethnicity in the American West Annals of Wyoming Spring 2010     Italy on the Pacific
