MacLaren, Eric Higgs, Gabrielle Zezulka-Mailloux, 2005-12 Mapper of Mountains follows the career of Dominion Land Surveyor Morrison Parsons Bridgland who provided the first detailed maps of many regions of the Canadian Rockies Between 1902 and 1930 this unheralded alpinist perfected phototopographical techniques to compile a series of mountaintop photographs during summers of field work Mapper of Mountains also tells the story of the Rocky Mountain Repeat Photography Project which studies the changes sustained in the Rockies repeating the field work accomplished by Bridgland almost a century ago Dominion Stephen Bown, 2024-10-22 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Named Best Book of the Year by the Globe and Mail History Today and The Hill Times A gripping and eye opening account of the building of the engineering triumph that created a nation the Canadian Pacific Railway The sharp decline of the demand for fur in the late nineteenth century could have spelled economic disaster for the venerable Hudson's Bay Company but an idea emerged in political and business circles in Ottawa and Montreal to connect the disparate British colonies With over 3 000 kilometres of track much of it driven through wildly inhospitable terrain the Canadian Pacific Railway would be the longest railway in the world and the most difficult to build Its construction was the defining event of its era and a catalyst for powerful global forces The times were marked by greed hubris blatant empire building oppression corruption and theft They were good for some hard for most disastrous for others The CPR enabled a new country but it came at a terrible price In Dominion Stephen R Bown widens our view of the past to include the adventures and hardships of explorers and surveyors the resistance of Indigenous peoples and the terrific and horrific work of many thousands of labourers His portrayal of the powerful forces that were moulding the world during this time provides a revelatory new picture of modern Canada's creation as an independent state Awful Splendour Stephen J.

Pyne, 2011-11-01 Fire is a defining element in Canadian land and life With few exceptions Canada's forests and prairies have evolved with fire Its peoples have exploited fire and sought to protect themselves from its excesses and since Confederation the country has devised various institutions to connect fire and society The choices Canadians have made says a great deal about their national character Awful Splendour narrates the history of this grand saga It will interest geographers historians and members of the fire community Railroad History, 1996 The Kids Book of Canada's Railway Deborah Rocky Mountain landscape and surrounding terrain As part of a long tradition of travelers tales these British tourists explorers adventurers writers scientists artists missionaries and merchants all looked for ways to describe and illustrate places they visited in this instance the vast and strange wilderness landscape of the North America s Rocky Mountains Using both published and unpublished resources Terry Abraham weaves these observations their aesthetic and their Britishness into a refreshing and unique view of an all but vanished West In their efforts to make the Rocky Mountain West real to a readership on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean these visitors from two centuries past encouraged a growing realization that this part of the North American landscape was unique a special part of the world s natural heritage Many also tried to describe the changes that were being visited on the Rockies by onrushing progress They were among the first who cautioned against excessive human encroachment on the landscape in fact they demonstrated what might be called environmental pre awareness Twenty first century readers will discover surprising parallels between modern environmental and conservation issues and the concerns expressed by these early travelers from the nineteenth Choice ,1992 Montana ,1993 The Future from the Past International Council for Archaeozoology.
