 unlive d life Edward Engelberg explores an important and hitherto neglected chapter in the history of modern thought He analyzes literary works chiefly from the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries novels short stories and some plays within the context of a number of psychological and philosophical concepts to sustain his argument Engelberg s premise is that in this period we begin to see what he calls the elegizing of the self that is mourning over one s shortcomings failures disappointments in short the unlive d life the perception that the hero or heroine has missed the opportunities of living that it is now too late to achieve what has become known today as self actualization Engelberg also analyzes how the motif was acted out and what symptoms accompanied its expression To this end he makes use of Freud s essays Mourning and Melancholia and On Narcissism as well as the idea of narcissistic rage advanced by Heinz Kohut In addition he draws upon Schopenhauer s pessimism Nietzsche s conception of history and Max Scheler s theory of resentment This study then identifies a special state of mind the elegiac cries of despair that emanate from a wide variety of fictional personae There are no simple answers as to why these feelings were expressed so frequently and passionately from the Romantics onward but one cause is surely the double edged effect of the emergence of the autonomous self With autonomy came anxiety fear and a feeling of impotence And these states in turn generated a variety of reactions self images of superfluosness expressions of narcissistic rage and states of mourning and melancholia The book will interest a variety of constituencies beyond the literary
