Tending Dandelions Sandra Swenson, 2017-09-05 Mothers of addicted and alcoholic children share a deep connection one that is rarely understood by anyone who hasn't experienced a similar path Sharing our perspectives helps us all grow stronger together These meditations continue the tradition of Hazelden's beloved series of daily readings by providing moments of recognition confession and healing for those who are realizing that recovery rarely follows a neat or comfortable path Along the way we plant beautiful roses only to be injured by their thorns and we pull up unwanted dandelions that at times are our only source of wishes By sharing the realities we never expected our families to face mothers of addicted children support each other through experiences that can only be feared and imagined by others From our shared struggles emerge opportunities for personal growth Tending Dandelions is a vital source of wisdom support and strength that helps us begin our own journey of recovery We all need to take a closer look at the things we've avoided the things lurking around in this place where love and addiction meet so we're as strong as we can be Sandra Swenson author of Tending Dandelions

Coherence in Spontaneous Text Morton Ann Gernsbacher, T. Givón, 1995-03-23 The main theme running through this volume is that coherence is a mental phenomenon rather than a property of the spoken or written text or of the social situation Coherence emerges during speech production and comprehension allowing the speech receiver to form roughly the same episodic representation as the speech producer had in mind In producing and comprehending a text be it spoken or written the interlocutors collaborate towards coherence They negotiate for a common ground of shared topicality reference and thematic structure thus toward a similar mental representation of the text In conversation the negotiation takes place between the present participants In writing or oral narrative the negotiation takes place in the mind of the text producer between the text producer and his/her mental representation of the mind of the absent or inactive interlocutor The cognitive mechanisms that underlie face to face communication thus continue to shape text production and comprehension in non interactive contexts Most of the papers in this volume were originally presented at the Symposium on Coherence in Spontaneous Text held at the University of Oregon in the spring of 1992 Materials of Engineering: Iron and steel ...
