DOCUMENTS

Software captures the image of a paper document allowing the information to be translated to electronic data without manual input. Recognition technologies have accelerating capabilities from optical character recognition (OCR) to intelligent character recognition (ICR). The technology differs for each type of document. Which style of documents do you need to automate?

Structured Document

- Surveys
- Questionnaires
- Tests
- Claim forms

Semi-structured Document

- Invoices
- Purchase orders
- Bills of lading
- Explanation of benefits

Unstructured Document

- Contracts
- Letters
- Articles
- Memos

AUTOMATED CAPTURE

Out of a survey of 493 businesses:

- 2% - Don't scan anything
- 7% - Use fixed-forms
- 10% - Scan semi-structured
- 15% - Scan, but don't process data
- 15% - Auto-index captured data
- 17% - Capture full-text for search
- 34% - Manually process data

Are you akin to the 34%?

Determine which types of documents would your process benefit from automating. Capture is just the beginning of the content lifecycle. Decide if you want to manage, store, preserve, and/or deliver the documents and data that you capture.

Structured Documents:

Structured Documents J. André, Richard Keith Furuta, V. Quint, 1989-03-23 This volume explores the structured representation of documents in computer document preparation systems Using this approach to documents allows their logical structure to be represented both descriptively and analytically Papers from major authorities in the field have been selected to form a unified whole The book presents various models that can be used for representing documents within electronic publishing software and shows the advantages that can be drawn from a high level representation Viewpoints of the typographer linguist and computer scientist are provided

Database Systems for Advanced Applications '97

Rodney Topor, Katsumi Tanaka, 1997 This volume contains the proceedings of the Fifth International Conference on Database Systems for Advanced Applications DASFAA 97 DASFAA 97 focused on advanced database technologies and their applications The 55 papers in this volume cover a wide range of areas in the field of database systems and applications including the rapidly emerging areas of the Internet multimedia and document database systems and should be of great interest to all database system researchers and developers and practitioners

Database and Expert Systems

Applications Trevor Bench-Capon, Giovanni Soda, A Min Tjoa, 2003-07-31 The Database and Expert Systems Applications DEXA conferences bring together researchers and practitioners from all over the world to exchange ideas experiences and opinions in a friendly and stimulating environment The papers are at once a record of what has been achieved and the first steps towards shaping the future of information systems DEXA covers a broad field and all aspects of database knowledge base and related technologies and their applications are represented Once again there were a good number of submissions 241 papers were submitted and of these the programme committee selected 103 to be presented DEXA 99 took place in Florence and was the tenth conference in the series following events in Vienna Berlin Valencia Prague Athens London Zurich Toulouse and Vienna The decade has seen many developments in the areas covered by DEXA developments in which DEXA has played its part I would like to express thanks to all the institutions which have actively supported and made possible this conference namely University of Florence Italy IDG CNR Italy FAW University of Linz Austria Austrian Computer Society DEXA Association In addition we must thank all the people who have contributed their time and effort to make the conference possible Special thanks go to Maria Schweikert Technical University of Vienna M Neubauer and G Wagner FAW University of Linz We must also thank all the members of the programme committee whose careful reviews are important to the quality of the conference

Advances in Information Retrieval Fabio Crestani, Mark Girolami, C.J. van

Rijsbergen, 2003-07-31 The annual colloquium on information retrieval research provides an opportunity for both new and established researchers to present papers describing work in progress or nal results This colloquium was established by the BCS IRSG British Computer Society Information Retrieval Specialist Group and named the Annual Colloquium on Information Retrieval Research Recently the location of the colloquium has alternated between the United Kingdom and continental

Europe To reflect the growing European orientation of the event the colloquium was renamed European Annual Colloquium on Information Retrieval Research from 2001 Since the inception of the colloquium in 1979 the event has been hosted in the city of Glasgow on four separate occasions However this was the first time that the organization of the colloquium had been jointly undertaken by three separate computer and information science departments an indication of the collaborative nature and diversity of IR research within the universities of the West of Scotland The organizers of ECIR 2002 saw a sharp increase in the number of go quality submissions in answer to the call for papers over previous years and as such 52 submitted papers were each allocated 3 members of the program committee for double blind review of the manuscripts A total of 23 papers were eventually selected for oral presentation at the colloquium in Glasgow which gave an acceptance rate of less than 45% and ensured a very high standard of the papers presented

Foundations of Intelligent Systems Mohand-Said Hacid,Zbigniew W. Ras,Djamel A. Zighed,Yves Kodratoff,2003-08-02 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 13th International Symposium on Methodologies for Intelligent Systems ISMIS 2002 held in Lyon France in June 2002 The 63 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from around 160 submissions The book offers topical sections on learning and knowledge discovery intelligent user interfaces and ontologies logic for AI knowledge representation and reasoning intelligent information retrieval soft computing intelligent information systems and methodologies

Air Force Journal of Logistics ,1981 Computer - Human Interaction in Symbolic Computation Norbert Kajler,2012-12-06 The well attended March 1994 HIse workshop in Amsterdam was a very lively conference which stimulated much discussion and human human interaction As the editor of this volume points out the Amsterdam meeting was just part of a year long project that brought many people together from many parts of the world The value of the effort was not only in generating new ideas but in making people aware of work that has gone on on many fronts in using computers to make mathematics more understandable The author was very glad he attended the workshop In thinking back over the conference and in reading the papers in this collection the author feels there are perhaps four major conclusions to be drawn from the current state of work 1 graphics is very important but such features should be made as easy to use as possible 2 symbolic mathematical computation is very powerful but the user must be able to see intermediate steps 3 system design has made much progress but for semester long coursework and book length productions we need more tools to help composition and navigation 4 monolithic systems are perhaps not the best direction for the future as different users have different needs and may have to link together many kinds of tools The editor of this volume and the authors of the papers presented here have also reached and documented similar conclusions

Message Handling Systems and Application Layer Communication Protocols Pietro Schicker,Einar Stefferud,1991 Protocols related to message handling systems and application layer communication protocols in general will continue to enjoy rapid development in the near future Demonstrations of data communication between different vendors application systems have become commonplace A tidal wave of OSI application products and services appears to be cresting now with the promise of a flood throughout the 1990 s The research papers in this book look at various aspects of this rush of development The role of security be it for authentication validation provision of privacy or for the preservation of integrity is a major focus of interest Other sections present recent work on implementations and experiences with the operation of MHS and Directory networks with extensions into new application areas

Transformation of Structured Documents Eila Kuikka, Martti Penttonen, 1995 Abstract Structure definitions of documents have been used successfully for inputting and formatting in text processing systems This report considers transformations between different representations of structured documents and studies possibilities to extend the use of structure definitions to document transformations and to discover algorithmic methods for carrying out transformations Documents are presented as parse trees for context free grammars and transformations are made from parse tree to parse tree First the report describes differences of manuscript styles required by various scientific journals and presents a declarative classification for structure differences between two parse trees Second a set of tree transformation methods are described and their suitability for transformations between documents having a structure difference in each defined class is analyzed For each class several methods may or must be used and only certain kinds of differences can be managed automatically Finally instead of designing a system where a method accommodates for all kinds of differences or where different methods are used in various transformations the report presents a model for a document transformation system that presents a possibility of using various methods according to differences in document representations The system is divided into two modules In the first one transformations are made automatically and they do not change the hierarchical structure of a document In the second one transformations are made semiautomatically or nonautomatically and the hierarchical structure changes Differences between the existing and the required representation of a document are analyzed and methods selected according to the classified differences
