Survivors The Eyes That Burned By Hermann:

European Comics in English Translation Randall William Scott, 2002 European comic authors produced a steady stream of comic material throughout the twentieth century but gained the world's notice in 1975 when the French magazine Metal Hurlant was founded. A new generation of artists and writers had begun. Soon publishers were producing translations of the new comics into other languages including English and comics creators everywhere were inspired to innovation. This is a reference work arranged by artist or writer to European comics from the last quarter of the twentieth century that have been translated from any European language into English. It contains a variety of material from the innocent imperialism of Herge's Tintin to the sadistic murder for hire in Bernet's Torpedo Albums by a single creator or artist and writer team of European origin. The focus comics in periodicals and anthologies with multiple contributors are excluded. Each entry provides a plot abstract and various notes about the original comic. An author index provides brief biographical information. There is a comprehensive general index. The Comics Journal, 1994

Testimony and Fading Memory in the Holocaust Patrick Dempsey, 2002 A compilation of reactions of the author to works written by Holocaust scholars, victims, survivors, and perpetrators. Presents short quotes from these works followed by his own discursive remarks about thoughts and feelings that these quotes aroused in him. He relates inter alia to the euthanasia killings, ghettos, labor camps, Einsatzgruppen, the Wannsee Conference, deportations, concentration and extermination camps, Nazi medical experiments, death marches, and the perpetrators. Dermatotoxicology Klaus Peter Wilhelm, Hongbo Zhai, Howard I. Maibach, 2012-09-27

The foundational reference in dermal toxicology. This classic text has been completely revised to bring it up to date in the new Eighth Edition, with almost a third of its chapters being newly added. The structure of the text has also been reorganized to enable easier location of a topic of interest. With contributions from leading international experts.

A Long Silence Sabina De Werth Neu, 2011-02-28 After more than sixty years, the nightmarish sufferings of so many victims of Germany's Nazi regime have been documented extensively. Rarely, however, does one hear about the experiences of German children during World War II. Coming of age amidst the chaos, brutality, and destruction of war in their homeland, they had no understanding of what was happening around them and often suffered severe trauma and physical abuse. This haunting memoir tells the riveting story of one such German child. Born in Berlin in 1941, Sabina de Werth Neu knew little during her earliest years except the hardships and fear of a war refugee. She and her two sisters and mother were often on the run and sometimes homeless in the bombed-out cities of wartime Germany. At times they lived in near-starvation conditions. And as the Allies stormed through the crumbling German defenses, the mother and children were raped and beaten by marauding Russian soldiers. After the war, like so many Germans, they wrapped themselves in a cloak of deafening silence about their recent national and personal history, determined to forget the past The result was that Sabina spent much of her time wrestling with shame and bouts of crippling depression Finally after decades of silence she could no longer suppress the memories and began reconstructing her young life by writing down what had previously seemed unspeakable Illustrated by vintage black and white family photographs the book is filled with poignant scenes her abused but courageous mother desperately trying to protect her children through the worst the sickening horror of viewing Holocaust footage on newsreels shortly after the war the welcome sight of American troops bringing hot meals to local schools and the glimmer of hope finally offered by the Marshall Plan which the author feels was crucial to her own survival and that of Germany as a whole This book not only recalls the experiences of a now distant war but also brings to mind the disrupting realities of present day refugee children There is perhaps no more damning indictment of war than to read about its effects on children its helpless victims

Bloodstained Sands Michael G. Walling, 2017-04-20

Bloodstained Sands tells the untold story of the men who stormed beaches around the globe during World War II from the Sword and Juno Beaches on D Day to the sands of Iwo Jima For the men who served in America's Amphibious Forces during World War II the conflict was an unceasing series of D Days They were responsible for putting men ashore in more than 200 landings throughout the conflict most against well entrenched enemy positions Bloodstained Sands US Amphibious Operations in World War II tells the story of these forgotten men for the first time tracing their operational history from Guadalcanal to Casablanca Sicily Normandy Iwo Jima and finally Okinawa The men's stories are told in their own voices with fascinating accounts from Underwater Demolition Teams Attack Transport crews and many other unsung heroes of World War II First hand interviews entries from personal diaries and Action Reports create a unique history perfectly complemented by historic illustrations and detailed maps These are timeless tales of determination sacrifice and triumph of the human spirit tales of US Amphibious Forces that for too long have gone forgotten and untold
