Armor ,1993 Federalism on Trial Paul Nolette,2015-02-23 It is one of the happy incidents of the federal system Justice Louis Brandeis wrote in 1932 that a single courageous state may if its citizens choose serve as a laboratory and try novel social and economic experiments without risk to the rest of the country It is one of the features of federalism in our day Paul Nolette counters that these laboratories of democracy under the guidance of state attorneys general are more apt to be dictating national policy than conducting contained experiments In Federalism on Trial Nolette presents the first broadscale examination of the increasingly nationalized political activism of state attorneys general Focusing on coordinated state litigation as a form of national policymaking his book challenges common assumptions about the contemporary nature of American federalism In the tobacco litigation of the 1990s a number of state attorneys general managed to reshape one of America's largest industries all without the involvement of Congress or the executive branch This instance of prosecution as a form of regulation is just one case among many in the larger story of American state development Federalism on Trial shows how new social policy regimes of the 1960s and 1970s adopting national objectives such as cleaner air wider access to health care and greater consumer protections promoted both adversarial legalism and new forms of cooperative federalism that enhanced the powers and possibilities open to state attorneys general Nolette traces this trend as AGs took advantage of these new circumstances and opportunities through case studies involving drug pricing environmental policy and health care reform The result is the first full account far reaching and finely detailed of how rather than checking national power or creating productive dialogue between federal and state policymakers the federalism exercised by state attorneys general frequently complicates national regulatory regimes and seeks both greater policy centralization and a more extensive reach of the American regulatory state provides numerous examples and thorough coverage of procedures for assessing and instructing struggling readers of all ages. In keeping with current theory the text emphasizes prevention and early intervention. It is based on the premise that student performance is variable and that assessment and instruction are planned and modified to meet the varied needs and levels of students. Gunning does not subscribe to a medical model that emphasizes deficiencies but rather focuses on what students can do. This text calls for inclusion not exclusion but recognizes that struggling learners need expert carefully planned assessment and instruction. Assessment coverage includes a grounding in basic concepts of tests and measurement. While formal standardized measures are described emphasis is placed upon informal but highly regarded techniques such as the informal reading inventory, miscue analysis, running records, observation, think alouds, holistic scoring of writing and portfolio assessment. In addition to chapters devoted specifically to assessment ways to connect assessment and instruction are mentioned throughout the text. Coverage of instructional techniques is thorough and practical. Nine chapters are devoted to instructional techniques.

Assessing and Correcting Reading and Writing Difficulties Thomas G. Gunning,2002 This text
