Story Of Cyrus Susan Mills:

The Story of Cyrus and Susan Mills Elias Olan James, 1953      Notable American Women, 1607-1950 Radcliffe College, 1971 Vol 1 A F Vol 2 G O Vol 3 P Z modern period      Biographical Dictionary of Modern American Educators Shirley Ohles, Frederik Ohles, John Ramsay, 1997-10-28 Widely praised Greenwood's Biographical Dictionary of American Educators Greenwood 1978 quickly became a standard reference work for students and scholars of American education This new volume includes biographical sketches of more than 400 notable researchers leaders reformers critics and practitioners from all major fields of education and extends the coverage of its predecessor to the mid 20th century Its topical range encompasses such diverse areas as psychology music health measurement and evaluation science special education history and administration It treats education at all levels including early childhood elementary and secondary higher and adult Most of the educators profiled were active in the 20th century but several dozen have been included from the 19th century A special effort has been made to include women and educators of color whose contributions have often been overlooked in the past Each biographical sketch includes information on family background a description of the educator's accomplishments and a digest of the person's education and career professional and civic service major publications and principal honors Each profile ends with a list of references and the volume closes with appendices listing birth places states of major service fields of work a chronological listing of educators and a list of important dates in American education A comprehensive index concludes the volume Educators are included from all fifty states and were selected from numerous suggested candidates for inclusion Most of the educators profiled were active in the 20th century but several dozen have been included from the 19th century A special effort has been made to include women and educators of color whose contributions have often been overlooked in the past      American Women in Mission Dana Lee Robert, 1996 The stereotype of the woman missionary has ranged from that of the long-suffering wife characterized by the epitaph Died given over to hospitality to that of the spinster in her unstylish dress and wire-rimmed glasses alone somewhere for thirty years teaching heathen children Like all caricatures those of the exhausted wife and frustrated old maid carry some truth the underlying message of the stereotypes is that missionary women were perceived as marginal to the central tasks of mission Rather than being remembered for preaching the gospel the quintessential male task missionary women were noted for meeting human needs and helping others sacrificing themselves without plan or reason all for the sake of bringing the world to Jesus Christ Historical evidence however gives lie to the truism that women missionaries were and are doers but not thinkers reactive secondary figures rather than proactive primary ones The first American women to serve as foreign missionaries in 1812 were among the best educated women of their time Although barred from obtaining the college education or ministerial credentials of their husbands the early missionary wives had read their Jonathan Edwards and Samuel Hopkins Not only did they go abroad with particular theologies to share but their identities as women caused them to develop gender-based mission theories Early nineteenth century women seldom wrote theologies of mission but they wrote letters and kept journals that reveal a thought world and set of assumptions about women's roles in the missionary task. The activities of missionary wives were not random; they were part of a mission strategy that gave women a particular role in the advancement of the reign of God. By moving from mission field to mission field in chronological order of missionary presence, Robert charts missiological developments as they took place in dialogue with the urgent context of the day. Each case study marks the beginning of the mission theory. Baptist women in Burma, for example, are only considered in their first decades there and are not traced into the present. Robert believes that at this early stage of research into women's mission theory, integrity and analysis lies more in a succession of contextualized case studies than in gross generalizations.

Historical Dictionary of the Gilded Age

Leonard C. Schlup, James Gilbert Ryan, 2003. Covers all the people, events, movements, subjects, court cases, inventions, and more that defined the Gilded Age.

Women Trailblazers of California Gloria G. Harris, Hannah S. Cohen, 2011-11-16. In a series of biographical profiles, this volume celebrates the lives and achievements of women who made history in the Golden State. Throughout California's history, remarkable women have been at the core of change and innovation. In this fascinating volume, Gloria Harris and Hannah Cohen relate the stories of forty women whose struggles and achievements have paved the way for generations. Coming from all walks of life and entering a variety of fields from activism and conservation to science, medicine, entertainment, and more, these women overcame prejudice, skepticism, and injustice to prove that women can do anything. Visionary architect Julia Morgan designed Hearst Castle. Dolores Huerta co-founded United Farm Workers. Donaldina Cameron, the "angry angel" of Chinatown, rescued brothel workers. And silent film actress Mary Pickford helped form United Artists Pictures. From fearless pioneers to determined reformers, Harris and Cohen chronicle the triumphs and disappointments of diverse women who dared to take risks and break down barriers.
