children in the session. Many therapists who are trained in family therapy lack training in child centered play techniques. This book effectively bridges the gap between popular theories and models in family therapy and the practice of working with children in a family context. Showcasing playful therapy techniques across and within each of the most common models of a family therapy such as Experiential, Structural and Narrative Therapy and Psychodynamic and Cognitive Behavioral Therapy. CBT this book is accessible to a wide range of clinicians. Additionally the author offers clear tangible interventions adaptable for both in person and teletherapy sessions. This book is essential reading for practicing therapists, students in training, clinical supervisors and anyone who works with children in a therapeutic capacity.

Strategies for Counseling with Children and Their Parents Geraldine Leitl, 1997

This practice oriented text provides practical strategies for counseling children and their families. The author stresses that children must be evaluated in terms of their whole environment including whatever positive and or negative parental influence exists. The author focuses on ways to involve parents in the counseling process. Because all children need to be approached as individuals the author equips readers with the skills they need to be flexible and adaptive. A range of assessment and counseling techniques are presented including play, art and bibliotherapy to give counselors diverse options.

Case studies and dialogues illustrate how these techniques can be applied in practice The book stresses that no one theory of practice can fit all children and adolescents     Case Studies in Child and Adolescent Counseling Larry B. Golden,2002 This award winning book presents a realistic picture of therapy s rewards and challenges through sixteen actual cases involving children and adolescents Readers are exposed to a variety of counseling theories and the real live counselors who use them The cases deal with major problem areas such as sexual abuse dual diagnoses seriously dysfunctional families and addictions A five part organization of each case covers an introduction that discusses the presenting problem and background information about the client conceptualization of therapeutic goals and strategies process descriptions of actual client contacts it explains what happened in sessions and how the therapist s relationship with the client changed over time outcome sections describing the result of the work done between therapist and client and discussion explanations of what the author therapist might have done differently In addition the author describes his or her personal and professional growth that resulted from this encounter with a troubled youngster For child and adolescent counselors beginning their journey as therapists     The Journal of Transpersonal Psychology ,2006     Art Therapy and Dramatherapy Sue Jennings,Åse Minde,1993 The book explores the relationship and differences between art therapy and dramatherapy based on eight years of research and practice in training clinical practice and theory     Strategies for Resolving Individual and Family Problems Fred W. Vondracek,Sherry Corneal,1995 This practical and comprehensive book covers both the important theoretical underpinnings of the how to of each of today s major strategies from cognitive psychoanalytic and behavioral approaches to less frequently discussed approaches such as dance music and art therapy The authors cover a wide variety of topics not usually covered in books of this kind including drug biofeedback and career therapy     Paradoxical Strategies in Psychotherapy Leon F. Seltzer,1986 Paradoxical Strategies in Psychotherapy examines the history sources principles and research behind this increasingly influential approach It discusses the paradoxical tactics associated with the four most common forms of treatment psychodynamic behavioral gestalt and systems and is backed by the largest bibliography of writings ever collected on this subject over 500 items in all     Life Stories Linda L. Viney,1993 Incorporates the concept of story or narrative to provide a unique approach to therapy with the elderly Compares this with other geriatric therapeutic approaches Explains how to use this technique through the application of a number of strategies and case studies
