Hoft-March, Judith Holland Sarnecki, 2009 Aimer et Mourir offers a wide ranging selection of essays that collectively address how from the Middle Ages to the present the notions of love and death get inextricably associated with the narratives that are women's lives. Some of the essays tackle male writers' representations that link women and in particular women's sexuality with death resulting in the figures of the femme fatale, the woman in parturition and the desiring vampire. A number of essays reiterate that women's hyper sexualized bodies have been used as a social construct and a psychological screen upon which to project a fear of death. The challenges to this partial reduction of woman's domain come from the mostly women writers represented here and they span from Marguerite de Navarre to Amélie Nothomb. These women writers rework the old formulae giving us instead death defying memories of love, love regenerative of language as of bodies, love forcing the frontiers of death or love creatively redefined within the parameters of death. Nor are these new narratives imagined as belonging to women alone but rather as attesting to a richer, more varied and greatly sensitized human experience. Phoné Sex Erin Felicia Labbie, 2001 The Gift of Self Stephen David Ross, 2005-01-01 Explores themes of dispossession, shattering and fragmentation that arise in contemporary writings from the point of view of the selves whose subjectivities and practices are said to be fragmented, shattered and dispossessed. Paroles Gelées, 1998
