1909 Gibb died in London of scarlet fever at the age of 44 and only the first volume of his masterpiece appeared before his death His family entrusted to his friend Edward Granville Browne 1862 1926 a distinguished Orientalist in his own right who had made a special study of Babism the task of posthumously publishing the five remaining volumes Browne characterized the work as one of the most important if not the most important critical studies of any Muhammadan literature produced in Europe during the last half century The first volume contains a long and compelling introduction by Gibb on the entire subject in which he argues that Ottoman poetry often rose and fell in tandem with Ottoman power Gibb divides Ottoman poetry into two great schools the Old or Asiatic circa 1300 1859 which generally was characterized by its deference to Persian influences and the New or European from 1859 onward which was influenced by French and other Western poetry According to Gibb the Old or Asiatic School went through a four periods a formative period 1300 1450 a period 1450 1600 in which works were modeled after the Persian poet Jami a period 1600 1700 dominated by the influences of Persian poets Urfi Shirazi and Sa ib Tabrizi and a period of uncertainty that lasted until 1859 The European school that followed was inaugurated by Ibrahim Sinasi 1826 71 who in 1859 produced a small but momentous collection of French poetry translated into Turkish verse The influence of the collection was far reaching and eventually changed the course of Ottoman poetry Gibb is known for his masterful translations that brilliantly render into English both the meaning and the form of Ottoman Persian and Arabic poetry For almost a century after his death a family trust financed the Gibb Memorial Series of editions and translations into English of Arabic Persian and Turkish texts
