Tall Man In A Low Land Harry Pearson, 2013-06-06 Most British travel writers head south for a destination that is hot exotic dangerous or all three Harry Pearson chose to head in the opposite direction for a country which is damp safe and of legendary banality Belgium But can any nation whose most famous monument is a statue of a small boy urinating really be that dull Pearson lived there for several months burying himself in the local culture He drank many of the 800 different beers the Belgians produce ate local delicacies such as kip kap jellied pig cheeks and a mighty tonnage of chicory and chips In one restaurant the house speciality was Hare in the style of grandmother I didn't order it I quite like hare but had no wish to see one wearing zip up boots and a blue beret A TALL MAN IN A LOW LAND commemorates strange events such as The Festival of Shrimps at Oostduinkerke and laments the passing of the Underpant Museum in Brussels No reader will go away from A TALL MAN IN A LOW LAND without being able to name at least ten famous Belgians Mixing evocative description and low grade buffoonery Harry Pearson paints a portrait of Belgium that is more rounded than a Smurf after a night on the mussels
