Food and War in Mid-Twentieth-Century East Asia Katarzyna J. Cwiertka,2016-04-15 War has been both an agent of destruction and a catalyst for innovation These two at first sight contradictory yet mutually constitutive outcomes of war waging are particularly pronounced in twentieth century Asia While 1945 marked the beginning of peaceful recovery for Europe military conflicts continued to play a critical role in the historical development of this part of the world In essence all wars in twentieth century Asia stemmed from the political vacuum that developed after the fall of the Japanese Wartime Empire intricately connecting one region with another Yet they have had often very diverse consequences shattering the homes of some and bringing about affluence to others Disarray of war may halt economic activities and render many aspects of life insignificant The need for food however cannot be ignored and the social action that it requires continues in all circumstances This book documents the effects of war on the lives of ordinary people through the investigation of a variety of connections that developed between war waging and the production distribution preparation and consumption of food throughout Asia since the 1930s The topics addressed range from issues at stake at the time of the conflicts such as provisioning the troops and food rationing and food relief for civilians to long term often surprising consequences of war waging and wartime mobilization of resources on the food systems diets and tastes of the societies involved The main argument of this volume is that war has not been a mere disruption but rather a central force in the social and cultural trajectories of twentieth century Asia Due to its close connection with human nourishment and comfort food stands central in the life of the individual On the other hand owing to its connection with profit and power food plays a critical role in the social and economic organization of a society What happens to food and eating is therefore an important index of change a privileged basis for the exploration of historical processes

Post-Beijing 2008: Geopolitics, Sport and the Pacific Rim J. A. Mangan,Fan Hong,2013-10-18 In 2008 as few in the world are unaware China was host to the world via the Beijing Olympics The world watched the metamorphosis of Beijing from insecure capital to confident metropolis but aware of it or not the world was also watching the symbolic assertion via the Games of a rising superpower The Pacific Rim will be the stage on which China initially displays its new hegemonic intentions aspirations and ambitions Thus in Post Beijing 2008 the political economic and cultural impact of Beijing 2008 on the geopolitical future of the Pacific Rim will be discussed This perspective analysed by some of the most distinguished academic commentators from some of the world's leading universities who are closely associated with the Pacific Rim East and West is original in focus and the analysis is pregnant with political possibilities This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport

Liangyou, Kaleidoscopic Modernity and the Shanghai Global Metropolis, 1926-1945 Paul Pickowicz,Kuiyi SHEN,Yingjin ZHANG,2013-11-11 This collection of original essays explores the rise of popular print media in China as it relates to the quest for modernity in the global metropolis of Shanghai from 1926 to 1945 It does this by offering the first extended look at the phenomenal influence of the Liangyou pictorial The Young Companion arguably the most exciting monthly periodical ever published in China Special emphasis is placed on the profound social and cultural impact of this glittering publication at a pivotal time in China The essays explore the dynamic concept of kaleidoscopic modernity and offer individual case studies on the rise of art photography the appeals of slick patent medicines the resilience of female artists the allure of aviation celebrities the feistiness of women athletes representations of modern masculinity efforts to regulate the female body and female sexuality and innovative research that locates the stunning impact of Liangyou in the broader context of related cultural developments in Tokyo and Seoul Contributors include Paul W Ricketts Timothy J Shea Emily Baum Maura Elizabeth Cunningham Jun Lei Amy O Keefe Hongjian Wang Ha Yoon Jung Lesley W Ma Tongyun Yin and Wang Chuchu Feeding China's Little Emperors Jun Jing,2000 This book focuses on how the transformation of the food habits of Chinese children involving snack foods soft drinks and fast foods from such Western outlets as McDonald's and Kentucky Fried Chicken has changed the intimate relationship of childhood parenthood and family life Clinical Handbook of Chinese Herbs Will Maclean,2017-02-21 A comprehensive handbook of Chinese herbs and their clinical applications this updated reference describes in detail each herb's characteristics with comparative charts to help clinicians discriminate between similar herbs and dosage guidance Neo-Confucianism and Science in Korea Sang-ho Ro,2021-02-15 Historians of late premodern Korea have tended to regard it as a hermit kingdom isolated from its neighbours and the wider world In fact as Ro argues in this book Korean intellectuals were heavily influenced by both Chinese Neo Confucianism and the European Enlightenment in the late 18th and 19th centuries In the late Choson period the regime felt threatened by the new more empirical approaches to knowledge emerging from both the East and the West For this reason many Korean intellectuals felt it necessary to work in the shadows and formed secret societies for the study of nature Because of the secrecy of these societies much of their work has remained unknown even in Korea until recent years Ho looks at the work of these intellectuals and analyses the impact their thinking and experimentation had on knowledge production in Korea A fascinating insight into the largely overlooked story of how globalization affected intellectual life in Korea before the 20th century This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of Korean history and of Asian intellectual history more broadly China Today ,2008 Proceedings of 2014 International Conference on Material Engineering and Environment Science Ping Chen,2014-11-07 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 2014 International Conference on Material Engineering and Environment Science MEES 2014 September 13 14 2014 Wuhan China Material Modernities Susan R. Fundamentals of Market Access for Pharmaceuticals Eric Bouteiller, Annie Chicoye, 2024-11-05. Because at the heart of the apparent conflict between public health concerns and capitalistic interests, market access for pharmaceuticals is largely driven by political considerations. The difference with usual consumer goods being that pharmaceuticals are saving lives or years of life in good health. If pharmaceutical companies are to innovate, they must be incentivised with prices that reflect the value of their products and the resources and risks involved in their production. To ensure appropriate access to new drugs and treatments for patients in need around the world, affordability is key. How do we tackle this dilemma? This question is critical for all stakeholders. The development of universal health coverage puts pressure on governments to directly or indirectly control reimbursement and prices of pharmaceuticals, whereas the flow of innovations addressing infectious, chronic and life threatening diseases is growing constantly. This book summarizes various global approaches to solving this dilemma and explores new trends. Thanks to the toolbox proposed by the authors, not only students but also executives from companies, payers, regulators and patients organizations can benefit from the supporting concepts and methods that favour greater access to pharmaceuticals.
