Koch, John Carey, 2000 A new edition of an invaluable collection of literary sources all in translation for Celtic Europe and early Ireland and Wales The selections are divided into three sections the first is classical authors on the ancient Celts a huge selection including both the well known Herodotus Plato Aristotle Livy Diogenes Laertius and Cicero and the obscure Pseudo Scymnus Lampridius Vopiscus Clement of Alexandria and Ptolemy I The second is early Irish and Hiberno Latin sources including early Irish dynastic poetry and numerous tales from the Ulster cycle and the third consists of Brittonic sources mostly Welsh      The Heroic Age Hector Munro Chadwick, 1926 Heroic poetry has appeared in various nations at periods widely separated in time but distinctive features peculiar to the genre are always apparent In this book the author studies the heroic poetry and traditions of two groups the Teutonic and Hellenic peoples in order to determine the nature and causes of these resemblances He suggests that a comparative study of heroic poetry involves a comparative study of the ages to which the poems owe their origins In his view these ages are the result of the meeting of two civilizations the lower having been semi educated by the higher and the distinctive characteristic is an outburst of individualism whose motive force is an all consuming desire for fame      The Divine Feminine in Ancient Europe Sharon Paice MacLeod, 2013-12-07 This book is an exploration of the spiritual traditions of ancient Europe focusing on the numinous presence of the divine feminine in Russia Central Europe France Britain Ireland and the northern regions Drawing upon research in archaeology history sociology anthropology and the study of religions to connect the reader with the myths and symbols of the European traditions the book shows how the power of European goddesses and holy women evolved through the ages adapting to climate change and social upheaval but continually reflecting the importance of living in an harmonious relationship with the environment and the spirit world From the cave painting of southern France to ancient Irish tombs from shamanic rituals to Arthurian legends the divine feminine plays an essential role in understanding where we have come from and where we are going Comparative examples from other native cultures and quotes from spiritual leaders around the world set European religions in context with other indigenous cultures The Ritual of Battle Alf Hiltebeitel, 2017-01-01 This book is a study of India's great epic the Mahabharata against the background of Indo-European myth epic and ritual It builds upon the pioneering studies in these areas by Georges Dumézil and Stig Wikander to work toward the goal of understanding how this epic's Indo-European heritage is interpreted and reshaped within the setting of bhakti or devotional Hinduism The book begins with a comparative typology of traditional classical epics arguing that epic is a distinctive mythical genre and that the Mahabharata in particular should be studied as part of an Indo-European epic and not just mythical continuum The reshaping of Indo-European themes is then examined in relation to the Mahabharata's central mystery the figure of Krishna hero and ally of the Pandava brothers in their struggles against their cousins the Kauravas and incarnation of Visnu The study argues that Krishna figures in the epic at the center of a coherent theological ensemble that builds upon continuities in Indo-European Vedic and particularly Brahmanic sacrificial idioms Ultimately Krishna guides the forces of dharma or righteousness through a great sacrifice of battle whose eschatological background recalls Indo-European and Vedic themes while projecting them into the Hindu bhakti cosmology of universal dissolution recreations and divine grace The study vigorously opposes attempts to explain Krishna by arbitrary theories of the Mahabharata's growth through interpolations

Hengest, Gwrtheyrn and the Chronology of Post-Roman Britain Flint F. Johnson, 2014-02-07 In this book the author makes use of the methodology he developed in Origins of Arthurian Romances McFarland 2012 in order to reevaluate the post-Roman history of Britain He begins by delving into the historical contexts of the key traditional players of the fifth century Hengest and Gwrtheyrn A better understanding of these two characters allows for a reexamination of the persons and events of the fifth sixth and seventh centuries The text that follows entirely realigns how those centuries can be seen from a chronological as well as a military and political standpoint The fifth century was not a time of British and Germanic fragmentation as they separated from Rome but one of slow integration and the formation of kingships that were a result of the economic realities of surviving without the dying giant Origins of Arthurian Romances Flint F. Johnson, 2012-09-06

There are three archetypal and widespread Arthurian stories the abduction of Guinevere the Holy Grail and Tristan Through the author's painstaking research of the literature and comparative literature of the stories and by studying the history laws and archaeology of the post-Roman period a new methodology was found for approaching sources This led to strong reasons for making a number of groundbreaking conclusions Arthurian literature is a potential wealth of information on Arthur's Britain More importantly the nature of the Holy Grail has been in the Grail literature and related materials all along The Heroic Age of India Nirmal Kumar Sidhanta, 1929 Cambridge Medieval Celtic Studies, 1998 Cambrian Medieval

Celtic Studies ,1998      The British Sources of the Abduction and Grail Romances Flint Johnson,2002-04-05 Flint Johnson sets out to explore the possibility that familiar Arthurian stories which have come down to us through medieval romance may contain relics of lost Welsh literary sources from the fifth or sixth century Johnson bases his analysis on the most popular and influential works by the French author Chretien de Troyes the tale of the abduction of Guenevere Le Chevalier de la Charrette and the early Grail romance Le Conte du Graal      The Scottish Geographical Magazine ,1886
    ICTE Yearbook ,1967      Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan Asiatic Society of Japan,2015 List of transactions v 1 41 in v 41      South Australian Institutes' Journal ,1900      Proceedings of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland Society of Antiquaries of Scotland,1875 List of members      History of Prose Fiction John Colin Dunlop,1896
