The Case for the Burial of Ancestors: Geography Paul Zelevansky,1981

Geography Paul Zelevansky,1981    Death and the Afterlife Paul R. Williamson,2018-03-06 Aspects of death and the afterlife are hotly debated among evangelical Christians In this NSBT volume Paul Williamson works through Old and New Testament passages taking care to understand the ancient Near Eastern and Greco Roman backgrounds Showing that there is exegetical support for the traditional evangelical understanding of death and the afterlife he questions the growing popularity of alternative understandings    Rebuilding the Ancestral Village Khun Eng Kuah-Pearce,2010-12-01 This work illustrates the relationship between one group of Singaporean Chinese and their ancestral village in Fujian China It explores the reasons why the Singaporean Chinese continue to maintain ties with their ancestral village and how they reproduce Chinese culture through ancestor worship and religion in the ancestral village In some cases the Singaporeans feel morally obliged to assist in village reconstruction and infrastructure developments such as new roads bridges schools and hospitals Others help with small scale industrial and retail activities Meanwhile officials and villagers in the ancestral home utilize various strategies to encourage the Singaporeans to revisit their ancestral village sustain heritage ties and help enhance the moral economy This ethnographic study examines two geographically distinct groups of Chinese coming together to re establish their lineage and identity through cultural and economic activities

The Marginalized in Death Jennifer F. Byrnes,Iván Sandoval-Cervantes,2022-08-31 This volume bridges the gap between forensic and cultural anthropology in how both disciplines describe and theorize the dead highlighting the potential for interdisciplinary scholarship As applied disciplines dealing with some of the most marginalized people in our society forensic anthropologists have the potential to shed light on important and persistent social issues that we face today Forensic anthropologists have successfully pursued research agendas primarily focused on the development of individual biological profiles time since death recovery and identification Few however have taken a step back from their lab bench to consider how and why people become forensic cases or place their work in a larger theoretical context Thus this volume challenges forensic anthropologists to reflect how we can use our toolkit and databases to address larger social issues and quandaries that we face in a world where some are spared from becoming forensic anthropology cases and others are not As witnesses to violence crimes against humanity and the embodied consequences of structural violence we have the opportunity and arguably the responsibility to transcend the traditional medico legal confines of our small sub discipline by synthesizing forensic anthropology casework into theoretically grounded social science with potentially transformative impacts at a global scale
