The Catastrophist:

The Catastrophist Ronan Bennett, 2001-02-28 The Catastrophist is a brilliant highly acclaimed novel of love passion violence and desire set in the Belgian Congo in 1959 While expatriates loll about their pools in a colonial paradise soon to erupt into chaos huge crowds are drawn to the charismatic Congolese independence leader Patrice Lumumba and his even more dangerous rivals One man sees the cracks appearing around him and struggles to hold on to his lover his sanity and ultimately his life Gillespie the outsider a journalist is in Leopoldville for the beautiful Italian In s He is desperate for her love while she is obsessed with the unfolding drama caught up in history ideology hero worship In a world slipping out of control gripped by disgust fear and incomprehension Gillespie feels that events threaten to overwhelm him as does his friendship with the amiable but sinister American Stipe his relationship with his canny native driver Auguste and above all his love for In s It is In s who defines Gillespie as a catastrofista an Italian word for somebody for whom no problem is small Nothing can be fixed it is always the end for Gillespie is deeply pessimistic and skeptical about their relationship as well as politics while In s believes in engagement and commitment whatever the risks which as it turns out are greater than either of them can foresee As colonial corruption and injustice give way to turmoil brutality and murder Gillespie is finally forced to confront what is happening before his eyes In subtle haunting prose Ronan Bennett captures the complex connection between the personal and the political between cruelty and lust between eroticism and love between courage and fear between detachment and involvement The Catastrophist is a bold courageous novel at once a searing love story and a terrifying political thriller in the tradition of such books as Graham Greene s The Comedians or such postcolonial classics as The Year of Living Dangerously an erotic Heart of Darkness for the twentieth century The Irish Expatriate Novel in Late
