The Chessmen of Mars Edgar Rice Burroughs, 2019-11-19 In The Chessmen of Mars Edgar Rice Burroughs embarks on yet another thrilling adventure in his Barsoom series weaving a tale that entwines elements of science fiction and fantasy within its richly imagined Martian landscape. The narrative follows the protagonist Tars Tarkas as he navigates political intrigue and warfare, promoting themes of honor and loyalty amidst the intricacies of a chess-like contest. Burroughs employs his characteristic vivid prose, crafting dynamic action sequences and intricate world building that immerses the reader in Martian society where strategic prowess is as crucial as physical combat. Burroughs, an American author renowned for his contributions to the genre of pulp fiction, drew inspiration from his own fascination with adventure and exploration. His background as a soldier and a businessman offered him a diverse palette of experiences which translated seamlessly into the fantastical worlds he created. The Chessmen of Mars reflects Burroughs' desire to push boundaries not just in physical spaces but also in the realms of human interaction and moral complexity, making it a cornerstone of early 20th century speculative fiction. For readers seeking an enthralling blend of escapism and philosophical inquiry, The Chessmen of Mars is a remarkable work that merges the excitement of interplanetary conflict with reflections on strategy and survival. Burroughs' narrative artistry invites both newcomers and seasoned fans of the series to engage deeply with the characters and their moral dilemmas, making it essential reading for anyone drawn to classic science fiction. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience. A succinct Introduction situates the work's timeless appeal and themes. In the fifth Barsoom adventure, Tara, the daughter of John Carter and Dejah Thoris, takes center stage. Tara meets Gahan of Gathol, but she's not impressed. When Tara is stranded in an unfamiliar part of Barsoom and captured, Gahan sets out to rescue her. When he saves her, she doesn't recognize him as the prince she'd met earlier, so he introduces himself as a warrior named Turan. He's fallen for her and is hoping to win her hand. Things take a turn for the worse when they end up in a game of Jetan, similar to chess where living people take the place of the pieces in a battle to the death.

Shea had just beaten me at chess as usual, and also as usual I had gleaned what questionable satisfaction I might by twitting him with this indication of failing mentality by calling his attention to the nth time to that theory propounded by certain scientists which is based upon the assertion that phenomenal chess players are always found to be from the ranks of children under twelve, adults over seventy two, or the mentally defective. A theory that is lightly ignored upon those rare occasions that I win. Shea had gone to bed and I should have followed suit for we are always in the saddle here before sunrise but instead I sat there before the chess table in the library idly blowing smoke at the dishonored head of my defeated king While thus profitably employed I heard the east door of the living room open and someone enter I thought it was Shea returning to speak with me on some matter of tomorrow s work but when I raised my eyes to the doorway that connects the two rooms I saw framed there the figure of a bronzed giant his otherwise naked body trapped with a jewel encrusted harness from which there hung at one side an ornate short sword and at the other a pistol of strange pattern The black hair the steel gray eyes brave and smiling the noble features I recognized them at once and leaping to my feet I advanced with outstretched hand John Carter I cried You None other my son he replied taking my hand in one of his and placing the other upon my shoulder And what are you doing here I asked It has been long years since you revisited Earth and never before in the trappings of Mars Lord but it is good to see you and not a day older in appearance than when you trotted me on your knee in my babyhood How do you explain it John Carter Warlord of Mars or do you try to explain it Why attempt to explain the inexplicable he replied As I have told you before I am a very old man I do not know how old I am I recall no childhood but recollect only having been always as you see me now and as you saw me first when you were five years old You yourself have aged though not as much as most men in a corresponding number of years which may be accounted for by the fact that the same blood runs in our veins but I have not aged at all I have discussed the question with a noted Martian scientist a friend of mine but his theories are still only theories However I am content with the fact I never age and I love life and the vigor of youth And now as to your natural question as to what brings me to Earth again and in this to earthly eyes strange habiliment We may thank Kar Komak the Bowman of Lothar It was he who gave me the idea upon which I have been experimenting until at last I have achieved success As you know I have long possessed the power to cross the void in spirit but never before have I been able to impart to inanimate things a similar power Now however you see me for the first time precisely as my Martian fellows see me you see the very short sword that has tasted the blood of many a savage foeman the harness with the devices of Helium and the insignia of my rank the pistol that was presented to me by Tars Tarkas Jeddak of Thark Aside from seeing you which is my principal reason for being here and satisfying myself that I can transport inanimate things from Mars to Earth and therefore animate things if I so desire I have no purpose Earth is not for me My every interest is upon Barsoom my wife my children my work all are there I will spend a quiet evening with you and then back to the world I love even better than I love life As he spoke he dropped into the chair upon the opposite side of the chess table You spoke of children I said Have you more than Carthoris A daughter he replied only a little younger than Carthoris and barring one the fairest thing that ever breathed the thin air of dying Mars
