The Riverside Magazine for Young People Horace Elisha Scudder,1870

Love in Contemporary British Drama Korbinian Stöckl,2021-01-18 Despite the recent turn to affects and emotions in the humanities and despite the unceasing popularity of romantic and erotic love as a motif in fictional works of all genres the subject has received surprisingly little attention in academic studies of contemporary drama Love in Contemporary British Drama reflects the appeal of love as a topic and driving force in dramatic works with in depth analyses of eight pivotal plays from the past three decades Following an interdisciplinary and historical approach the study collects and condenses theories of love from philosophy and sociology to derive persisting discourses and to examine their reoccurrence and transformation in contemporary plays Special emphasis is put on narratives of love's compensatory function and precariousness and on how modifications of these narratives epitomise the peculiarities of emotional life in the social and cultural context of the present Based on the assumption that drama is especially inclined to draw on shared narratives for representations of love the book demonstrates that love is both a window to remnants of the past in the present and a proper subject matter for drama in times in which the suitability of the dramatic form has been questioned

The Homilist; or, The pulpit for the people, conducted by D. Thomas. Vol. 1-50; 51, no. 3- ol. 63 David Thomas,1874

The Ultimate Care Giver , The light of life: every Christian's duty in New Testament words, compiled by R.J.

Ellis R J Ellis,1877 Midas William Forster,1884 Modernity between Wagner and Nietzsche Brayton Polka,2015-01-06

Modernity between Wagner and Nietzsche analyzes the operas and writings of Wagner in order to prove that the ideas on which they are based contradict and falsify the values that are fundamental to modernity This book also analyzes the ideas that are central to the philosophy of Nietzsche demonstrating that the values on the basis of which he breaks with Wagner and repudiates their common mentor Schopenhauer are those fundamental to modernity Brayton Polka makes use of the critical distinction that Kierkegaard draws between Christianity and Christendom Christianity represents what Nietzsche calls the faith that is presupposed in unconditionally willing the truth in saying yes to life Christendom in contrast represents the bad faith of nihilism in saying no to life Polka then shows that Wagner in following Schopenhauer represents Christendom with the demonstration in his operas that life is nothing but death and death is nothing but life In other words the purpose of the will for Wagner is to annihilate the will since it is only in and through death that human beings are liberated from life as willfully sinful Nietzsche in contrast is consistent with the biblical concept that existence is created from nothing from nothing that is not made in the image of God that any claim that the will can will not to will is contradictory and hence false For not to will is in truth still to will nothing There is then Nietzsche shows no escape from the will Either human beings will the truth in saying yes to life as created from nothing or in truly willing nothing they say no to life in worshiping the God of Christendom who is dead
