The Berkshire Anthology Gerald Hausman, David Silverstein, 1972      Contemporary Poets in American Anthologies, 1960-1977 Kirby Congdon, 1978      Blinding the Goldfinches Michelle Gillett, 2005-03 What one finds in these poems is the truth It is as simple as that No frills from the workshop no ostentatious diction or imagery but only the firm quiet enterprise of authenticity In a world increasingly crude cruel and repulsive what could be more pleasing more useful Not that these poems shun our actual history Violence and dislocation are the clearly stated context here But the accurate vision of a committed imagination prevails and does so in language as flawless as language can be I recommend these poems for their wisdom and insight but even more for their steadfast initiative and independence their refusal to be fashionable Judge's Statement by Hayden Carruth for Blinding the Goldfinches 2003 Backwaters Prizewinner      British Anthologies, 1899      Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1975      Country Life, 1915      Embroidered Stories Edvige Giunta, Joseph Sciorra, 2014-07-29 For Italian immigrants and their descendants needlework represents a marker of identity a cultural touchstone as powerful as pasta and Neapolitan music Out of the artifacts of their memory and imagination Italian immigrants and their descendants used embroidering sewing knitting and crocheting to help define who they were and who they have become This book is an interdisciplinary collection of creative work by authors of Italian origin and academic essays The creative works from thirty seven contributors include memoir poetry and visual arts while the collection as a whole explores a multitude of experiences about and approaches to needlework and immigration from a transnational perspective spanning the late nineteenth century to the late twentieth century At the center of the book over thirty illustrations represent Italian immigrant women's needlework The text reveals the many processes by which a simple object or even the memory of that object becomes something else through literary visual performance ethnographic or critical reimagining While primarily concerned with interpretations of needlework rather than the needlework itself the editors and contributors to Embroidered Stories remain mindful of its history and its associated cultural values which Italian immigrants brought with them to the United States Canada Australia and Argentina and passed on to their descendants      British Anthologies Edward Arber, 1900      The Columbia Granger's Index to Poetry in Anthologies, 2007      Scott Foresman Literature and Integrated Studies Alan Carroll Purves, 1997      The Material Culture of Sex, Procreation, and Marriage in Premodern Europe A. McClanan, K. Encarnación, 2016-09-23 This interdisciplinary anthology takes as its starting point the belief that as the material grounds of lived experience material culture provides an avenue of historical access to women's lives extending beyond the reaches of textual evidence Studies here range from utilitarian tools used in Late Roman abortion to sacred magical or ritual objects associated with sex procreation and marriage in the Renaissance Together the essays demonstrate the complex relationship between language and object and explore the ways in which objects become forms of communication in their own right transmitting both rather specific messages and more generalized
