Cultivating Differences Michèle Lamont,Marcel Fournier,1992 How are boundaries created between groups in society And what do these boundaries have to do with social inequality In this pioneering collection of original essays a group of leading scholars helps set the agenda for the sociology of culture by exploring the factors that push us to segregate and integrate and the institutional arrangements that shape classification systems Each examines the power of culture to shape our everyday lives as clearly as does economics and studies the dimensions along which boundaries are frequently drawn The essays cover four topic areas the institutionalization of cultural categories from morality to popular culture the exclusionary effects of high culture from musical tastes to the role of art museums the role of ethnicity and gender in shaping symbolic boundaries and the role of democracy in creating inclusion and exclusion The contributors are Jeffrey Alexander Nicola Beisel Randall Collins Diana Crane Paul DiMaggio Cynthia Fuchs Epstein Joseph Gusfield John R Hall David Halle Richard A Peterson Albert Simkus Alan Wolfe and Vera Zolberg

The Omnivore's Deception John Sanbonmatsu,2025-06-17 Offers the most powerful case yet for ending our exploitation of animals for food Millions of Americans see themselves as conflicted omnivores worrying about the ethical and environmental implications of their choice to eat animals Yet their attempts to justify their choices only obscure the truth of the matter in John Sanbonmatsu s view killing and eating animals is unethical regardless of whether they are free range or factory farmed Shattering the conventional wisdom around the meat economy he reframes the question of animal agriculture from one of sustainability to one of existential and moral purpose presenting a powerful case for the total abolition of the animal economy In a rejoinder to Michael Pollan and other critics who have told us that we can have our meat and our consciences too he shows why humane meat is always a contradiction in terms The Omnivore s Deception provides a deeply observed philosophical meditation on the nature of our relationship with animals Peeling back the myriad layers of myth falsehoods and bad faith that keep us eating meat the book offers a novel perspective on our troubled relations with animals in the food economy The problem with raising and killing animals for food isn t just that it s bad for the environment but the wrong way to live a human life A tour de force of moral philosophy and cultural critique The Omnivore s Deception will change the way we think about meat animals and human purpose
