The Best Years, 1945-1950 Joseph C. Goulden, 2019-12-18 In the 1970s a prominent journalist examined the immediate postwar period to find rampant political and social tensions His survey offers a unique perspective on a critical era in American history Includes a new Preface by the author The Best Years of Their Lives? Cedric Cullingford, 2003-12-16 Based on structured research and interviews with pupils in years 10 and 11 15 DDS 16 years old about their views of the purpose of school and their own future employment and the way the two connect this book offers a blistering critique of the purpose of education and its ability to prepare children for the world of work The issues raised include the purpose of school the nature and quality of the curriculum whether their time was well spent whether what they learned was relevant who influenced them their views of industry and the world outside Out of the mouths of babes the truth comes tumbling and the result is a shocking indictment of an educational system that fails to deliver what it sets out to achieve Making The Best

Years of Our Lives Alison Macor, 2022-06-07 2023 Wall Award Finalist Theatre Library Association How a Hollywood gem transformed the national discourse on post traumatic stress disorder Released in 1946 The Best Years of Our Lives became an immediate success Life magazine called it the first big good movie of the post war era to tackle the veterans problem Today we call that problem PTSD but in the initial aftermath of World War II the modern language of war trauma did not exist The film earned the producer Samuel Goldwyn his only Best Picture Academy Award It offered the injured director William Wyler a triumphant postwar return to Hollywood And for Harold Russell a double amputee who costarred with Fredric March and Dana Andrews the film provided a surprising second act Award winning author Alison Macor illuminates the film's journey from script to screen and describes how this authentic motion picture moved audiences worldwide General Omar Bradley believed The Best Years of Our Lives would help the American people to build an even better democracy following the war and the movie inspired broad reflection on reintegrating the walking wounded But the film's nuanced critique of American ideals also made it a target and the picture and its creators were swept up in the anti Communist witch hunts of the late 1940s In this authoritative history Macor chronicles the making and meaning of a film that changed America

The Best Years of Our Lives Sarah Kozloff, 2017-10-07 William Wyler's The Best Years of Our Lives 1946 tells the story of three veterans returning from World War II and adjusting to civilian life in a manner unusual for classical Hollywood cinema with melodrama leavened by authentic detail personal memories and a fierce desire to capture its historical moment Sarah Kozloff's illuminating study of the film traces the contribution of Wyler himself injured while serving in the US Air Force Robert Sherwood's screenplay Gregg Toland's deep focus cinematography Hugo Friedhofer's award winning score and the ensemble cast of Myrna Loy Fredric March Dana Andrews Teresa Wright and Harold Russell The film's poignant message spoke to American audiences reeling from the end of the conflict and the bumpy transition to peace producer Samuel Goldwyn received hundreds of letters from ex servicemen about how accurately his production had captured their experiences Despite winning nine Academy Awards Best Years was soon engulfed in political conflict from both the right and the left Disagreements about the film's politics foreshadowed HUAC's anti Communist investigations and the fracturing of the Hollywood community that culminated in the collapse of the studio system Sarah Kozloff's discussion of the film's development production and reception history draws on archival research to shed new light on our understanding of this much loved movie and to bring The Best Years of Our Lives back where it belongs in our collections in our libraries and in our hearts
