

The background of the entire cover is a romantic scene on a beach at sunset. In the foreground, the dark silhouettes of a man and a woman are shown in profile, facing each other as if about to kiss. The man is on the left, and the woman is on the right. Behind them, the ocean stretches to the horizon under a sky of orange and yellow. Several palm trees are visible, their fronds silhouetted against the bright sky. The overall mood is intimate and romantic.

Bob Kindler, Joel Levey, Michelle Levey, Sharad Chandra, Lex Hixon, John Forman, 2006-03-12 As we take stock of all that this Winter issue of Nectar contains it is the theme of suffering which stands out the most and begs for attention and inspection Whether this suffering is of an emotional nature a matter of physical ill health a case of mental unrest or of intellectual unsurety it is a constant and nagging consideration on the minds of all beings in relativity And it is just for this type of reason that teachings of the kind that appear in Nectar are so important and so necessary for they are brought to bear upon the presence of suffering in healing fashion by the words of illumined souls such as Lord Buddha Jesus Christ Sri Sarada Devi and others It was this latter the Holy Mother who stated Misery suffering and pain where will they go my child They are our companions in life Such admittances on the part of holy beings bring both relief and clarity to the situation acting as a soothing lenitive to both body and mind Moreover the soul may also need amelioration at times and teachings of a higher order are in store for that end As one Christian mystic was reported to have said If you knew the purpose and benefit of your suffering you would not ask that it be taken away leading us to conclude that suffering plays a role in both neutralizing the effects created by us on the field of action and weaning us off of all of its causes so that we strive for higher existence A Book of Memories of Great Men and Women of the Age Samuel Carter Hall,1877 Lexical Concordance to the Poetical Works of Percy Bysshe Shelley Frederick Startridge Ellis,1892 The Musical Herald and Tonic Sol-fa Reporter ,1897
